

THUMBS DOWN ON EXTENSION

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

SEATON Town Council has recommended refusal for plans to erect a two-storey extension with eight bedrooms at Seaton Nursing Home, Fore Street.

Applicant Southern Healthcare (Wessex) Ltd wishes to make way for the extension by demolishing an existing one-storey block.

But the proposal has failed to impress a number of people living nearby. Many have registered their objections to the planning department at East Devon District Council, citing a number of concerns.

One concern is that there is no proposed on-site increase in parking spaces.

This is confirmed by the applicant's design and access statement, which says: "Vehicular parking, 10 in number, presently exists within the building curtilage and this will remain unchanged."

The application is at an early stage and will be determined at some point by East Devon District Council.

Seaton Town Council has recommended refusal on grounds of a lack of parking, over-development and a serious effect over neighbouring properties.

Police report fall in crime by 19 per cent

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlnews.co.uk

FIVE offences took place in Colyton last month according to police reports.

However, the overall crime figure for the Seaton rural district has fallen by almost 19 per cent.

In Axmouth, no crimes were recorded, this compares to one crime in September and one crime in October 2008.

Three offences took place in Beer, including a serious assault.

On Saturday, October 24th, two men were attacked in Common Lane. One of the victims was seriously injured. Three local men have been arrested and are currently on police bail.

Between Friday, October 23rd, and Saturday, October 24th, a parking meter in the car park at Common Lane was damaged. According to police it appears the offender was trying to get money out of the machine.

A shop assistant at a premises in Beer was given an £80 fine after serving alcohol to a 15 year old. An operation was carried out by Seaton police, a licensing officer and Trading Standards officer, in the area on Friday, October 30th.

A car parked in Branscombe was broken into and an amount of cash was taken.

The car was left at the Square. The incident took place overnight between October 23rd and 24th.

Between Wednesday, October 7th, and Tuesday, October 13th, an attempted burglary took place at a property in King Street, Colyton. No entry was gained to the premises but windows were damaged.

On Sunday, October 11th, damage was caused to a window and door of a property in Fairview Lane, Colyford. Damage was also caused to a car window during the incident.

Fencing was pulled down at the new youth centre at the Peace Memorial playing fields overnight between Tuesday, October 27th, and Wednesday, October 28th.

Sometime between October 28th and 29th a car parked at Courtenay Drive had its tyres slashed and wipers and aerial bent.

The operation aimed at tackling underage drinking was also carried out in Colyton on October 30th and resulted in a shop assistant receiving an £80 fine.

A house in Farway was raided sometime between June 1st this year and October 22nd. An item of jewellery was stolen from the bedroom of the property.

A car parked at Blackbury Camp, Southleigh, was broken into and a handbag was stolen on Saturday, October 3rd.

Then on Sunday, October 18th, a car parked in the same spot was raided and another handbag was snatched.

Northleigh, Combyne and Rousdon were crime free throughout October.

Anyone with information about any of the incidents should contact Seaton police on 08452 777444. Alternatively you can contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Thanks for no scare at Hallowe'en

POLICE in Seaton have thanked members of the public after no incidents of note were reported during the Hallowe'en weekend.

The force conducted high visibility patrols in the town and surrounding areas in an effort to combat anti-social behaviour.

A spokesman for Seaton police said: "We are pleased to report that there were no incidents of note (on Hallowe'en) and the evening passed off quietly."

"We would like to thank everybody for behaving in a responsible manner and respecting the community."

Coffee event for charities

DEVON Air Ambulance Trust and Hospiscare will be the main beneficiaries when Beer Music for Life stages a table top sale and coffee morning on Saturday, November 14th.

The event will run from 9am-1pm in Mariners Hall, Beer and is a follow-up to the successful 2008-09 fundraising campaign which amassed in excess of £7,000 for worthy causes.

Table bookings can be made by calling Gill on 01297 20717.

Council's mobile youth service for town's teens

COLYTON teenagers will again be served by a mobile youth service.

Devon County Council youth workers will offer lots of activities including sports, art, craft, games, DJing plus support and information on a wide range of issues.

The mobile youth service is back on the road and will be in the pavilion car park in Colyton on Wednesday evenings from 6.45pm-8.45pm.

The first session took place on November 4th and Colleen Harris, senior area youth worker, said: "We're really pleased to be getting the service back on the road in Colyton, and hope it will benefit young people in the area."

"The service hasn't been running in Colyton since last year but — if it is well-used — plans to be there until the new youth centre opens next year."

The sessions are open to young people aged 13-19 from Colyton and surrounding areas, and are free of charge.

Anyone who would like further information about the service can contact Colleen on 01404 548735.

A passion for job in politics

COLYTON Grammar School student Adam Ward has just returned from taking part in an historic event at the Houses of Parliament, London.

Adam is the elected member of the UK Youth Parliament for mid and east Devon.

Speaking to this newspaper he said: "On Friday, October 30th, 300 members of the UK Youth Parliament from across the country met to debate in the House of Commons. As the elected member for mid and east Devon, I was invited to this historic event - the first time people other than MPs were allowed to sit on the green benches in the chamber.

"A number of MPs came to watch. The leader of the house, Harriet Harman, welcomed us and the speaker of the commons, John Bercow, chaired the session.

"There were five debates on issues including university tuition fees, youth crime and votes at 16.

"I was fortunate to speak in the transport debate and raised the point that frequency and availability of public transport in rural areas, such as where I live, make it hard for young people to use trains and buses.

"It was a surreal experience watching what I said on BBC Parliament television.

"I had a fantastic day. It certainly furthered my passion for politics."

Blaze rips through the heart of an old station

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

REMEMBER, remember the 6th of November — that was the day a huge blaze ripped through the heart of Ottery St Mary's old fire station.

The fire started just after 6am and fire crews from Ottery, Honiton and Exmouth were on the scene within minutes.

Residents in the area said they were lucky to be alive following the inferno.

Buildings near to the property in Batts Lane were evacuated and the cause of the fire was still being investigated as this newspaper went to press on Monday afternoon.

Several properties that are next to the old fire station suffered minor damage.

Engineers from Western Power were called out to isolate the electricity and a buildings inspector from East Devon District Council is assessing the stability of the iconic structure — the gable end of the property and the roof has collapsed.

A number of road closures were set up by the Highways Agency to keep vehicles and pedestrians away from the area.

One woman was treated for the effects of smoke inhalation. However, no other reports of any other injuries have been recorded.

A spokesman for the fire service said: "The building was well alight when the first appliance from Ottery arrived.

"The building was dangerous, we fought the fire from the outside. No firefighters entered the building.

"The fire was contained and prevented from spreading, although there was some minor damage to the King's Arms pub next door."

Witnesses sought to tragic road accident

AVON and Somerset Constabulary is seeking witnesses to an accident in which an Axminster resident sadly died.

Emergency services were called to the A30 at Roundham, near Crewkerne, at about 9.40am on November 4th.

A police spokesperson said: "Three occupants were in the car at the time. A 36-year-old woman was pronounced dead at the scene. The other two occupants received minor injuries.

"Fire and ambulance also attended and the road was closed between Roundham and Crewkerne for a short time."

The fire and rescue service said the vehicle was lodged in a precarious position and had to be stabilised by crews.

Avon and Somerset Constabulary named the victim as 36-year-old Teresa Bristow, a mum of five children.

Anyone who witnessed the accident or events leading up to it are asked to contact police on 0845 456 7000 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Family survives after stationary car is flipped by another vehicle

DRIVER PLOUGHS INTO PEUGEOT STOPPED AT TRAFFIC LIGHTS

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

FOUR members of a Feniton family had a lucky escape when their car flipped over on the outskirts of Exeter after being hit by another car.

Lucie Welsman, 31, Steve Manvell, 34, and their two children aged two years and eight weeks, were travelling towards Exeter on Saturday, October 31st.

Just after 1.30pm they stopped at traffic lights and their world was literally turned upside down.

A car behind them failed to stop and ploughed into their Peugeot, which was flipped upside down.

The accident happened on the A30 under the M5 bridge and Lucie has spoken about the ordeal.

"I didn't really know what was happening. It was a sudden impact, we didn't see it [the other car] coming in the mirror."

They didn't lose consciousness but Lucie and Steve suffered cuts and bruises.

Their children came through unscathed but all four were taken to hospital for a check-up.

When speaking to Pulman's View three days after the accident, Lucie was also recovering from muscular back pain.

She said: "I was put on a spinal board and we were put in an ambulance quite quickly."

She was full of praise for other motorists and paramedics who helped at the scene.

"We are so thankful, they were brilliant," she said.

In addition, she also praised the car seats which prevented serious injury.

The car, however, is expected to be deemed a write-off.

Police said the vehicles involved were a Lexus, which struck the Peugeot from behind. One man, understood to be the driver of the Lexus, was treated for shock.

The police press office did not have access to information regarding any possible charges against the Lexus driver.

Flood grant applicants to be revealed

A LIST of successful flood protection grant applicants is expected to be revealed in a week or less.

It was back in June that East Devon District Council (EDDC) was granted almost £100,000 of government flood protection money.

At the time, A DEFRA spokesperson explained: "EDDC will receive a grant of £96,900 to protect 17 homes from flooding using a variety of flood boards, airbrick covers and non-return valves."

When asked how the selection process would work, district councillor Graham Brown said: "The council will now be consulting with colleagues at Devon County Council, the Environment Agency and in towns and parishes to establish the area or areas of greatest need."

"We will then shortlist properties that we feel are at greatest risk and likely to gain the greatest benefit from the flood protection work that this money is intended to fund — flooring, airbrick covers, non-return valves and so on."

The consultation work is coming to an end and an EDDC spokesperson said on November 3rd: "There is still some final work to be done on this before the list of recipients can be announced."

"We expect this to be complete within the next two weeks."

FLAMING TAR BARRELS

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

THE actions of one "mindless yob" left a sour taste in the mouths of those who attended the annual Tar Barrels and bonfire night event in Ottery St Mary.

Rain had failed to dampen the spirits of revellers at the event but an explosion, caused after someone allegedly threw an aerosol canister into one of the flaming barrels left several people needing hospital treatment.

A spokesman for the police said: "Police are currently investigating an incident that took place at Tar Barrels on Thursday, November 5th.

"During the night it has emerged one man suffered serious facial burns, and a second man suffered burns to his hand, when one of the barrels exploded.

"Officers are currently investigating reports that an aerosol was put into one of the barrels, causing the explosion.

"Both men were treated at Bristol's Frenchay Hospital but have now been released.

"Officers believe other spectators may have also suffered minor burns and are keen for them to come forward and speak to the police. It is thought some of those injured are not from the local area and travelled down from Somerset and from further afield.

"The area was obviously very busy with spectators throughout the night and police would like to hear from anyone who witnessed the incident."

Anyone with information should contact the police on 08452 777444.

The tradition of carrying flaming barrels through the town dates back more than 150 years.

Only people who live in Ottery can take part and participants have to carry the barrels through the crowds before the flames go out.

Youngsters are first up carrying the lightest barrels and as the night progresses the barrels get heavier. From midnight the heaviest barrels are rolled out as the night reaches its climax.

Thousands of people come from all over the UK and the world and pack into the town. The roads leading in and out of Ottery are shut off from 6pm.

It is estimated that more than 20,000 people attend the event each year raising thousands of pounds for charity.

A spokesman for Ottery Carnival Committee, the organisers of the Tar Barrels, said the person responsible for the explosion should be brought to justice.

OH WHAT A NIGHT WITH £7.5K RAISED

BY KELLY BAKER
kelly@pemedta.co.uk

AN Axminster business woman and her associates celebrated last week when months of hard work paid off in one night only — and what a night it was raising a whopping £7,500.

Karen Bostock (nee Chapman), of McKinlays in Axminster, and a team of friends and family hosted an amazing charity event — One Night Only — at The Guildhall which turned out to be a complete sell-out.

In her office, Karen had already decided to make Hospiscare the charity of the year. However, in February, she lost her father-in-law — John Bostock of Axe Skip Hire Ltd — after a two-year battle against cancer, so she decided to step up the fundraising to another level and began planning for the One Night Only gig.

Karen said: "I am the first to admit that I didn't know much about Hospiscare or what the charity did until our involvement with it, but I do know that our family wouldn't have coped with the situation as well without it."

"Never in my wildest dreams did I ever imagine a sell-out event, it was fantastic and the packed audience with its electric atmosphere made the night for us. As one person said to me, the hall is buzzing and I haven't seen that for years."

The event, which took place on Monday, October 26th, was a total sell-out a week prior to the performance — there was even a waiting list for tickets.

Entertainment on the night included a fashion show with a difference, with clothes provided by local businesses including So! Kids Clothing, Jane's Patch, Surfer's Paradise, Marmalade, Mole Avon, Henry Bowers, Joules and the Hospiscare shop.

Comedy sketches by Axminster Drama Club, staff from Mole Avon, Axminster Young Farmers' Club and even some clog dancing kept the audience rapt.

There was also a performance to be proud of by the children of Shute Community Primary School and Shute Little Acorns Pre-school.

The second half was opened with a sketch written especially for the show by Brian Fillis — who wrote the comic cult classic, and later Channel 4's drama Fear of Fanny.

The audience went in hysterics at the sketch performed by celebrities including television star Alan French as the first lady of TV cookery Fanny Cradock.

The sketch was based around a 'new vs old' cook-off, pitching Fanny Cradock against Mat Follas (played by himself), winner of Master Chef 2009 and the newest celebrity chef.

Other celebrities on the night included Olympic medalist Mary King, who modelled her new range of Joules clothing with the help of the children from the Axe Vale Pony Club all compered by the talented BBC Homes Under the Hammer auctioneer, Graham Barton.

The grand total on the night was over £6,000 which has since risen to £7,500. This sum means Karen and the team at McKinlays — with the help of friends and family — have raised a staggering £9,377 since January. Axe Skip Hire Ltd and Beviss and Beckingsale each donated £500.

Karen said: "I can't believe the support we have received before, during and after the show. The feedback, which can be viewed on our website at www.4onenightonly.com has been unbelievable, and it's all thanks to the hard work of all the volunteers involved."

"I am so proud of the children at Shute Primary School and Shute Little Acorns and from Axe Vale Pony Club and especially the models who hadn't even had a run-through."

"Our aim was to make £7,000, so to go above and beyond is more than I ever imagined."

"By the way the dress I wore on the night — which is a size 10-12 — is currently in the Hospiscare shop window and will be sold to the highest bidder. Bids to be handed in to the shop in South Street by November 14th 2009 or speak to Amanda for further details."

DVDs of the show are available to order from McKinlays in West Street, Axminster. For more information pop in or call 01297 631199.

Gym around the world bid

GYM goers will be part of an 'around the world' challenge if they step onto a Leisure East Devon (LED) treadmill on certain days in November.

From Friday, November 13th until Friday, November 20th the total distance travelled on all treadmills in six LED gyms will be recorded and plotted against a map of the world.

The aim is to see how far around the globe the line can get.

Members of the public are invited to guess how many kilometres are covered during the eight days.

The cost is £1, in aid of Children in Need, per guess and the person with the correct or closest answer will win a year's Gold Membership valid at all LED centres.

"To get the full distance around the world would mean running, walking or jogging 40,074km," said LED health and recreation officer Andrew Dare.

He added: "It's a big challenge but Children in Need is a fantastic cause and we hope as many local people as possible will support it."

"You don't have to be a customer to come in and have a guess — just pop into reception at your nearest centre and you could end up winning a year's Gold Membership and help Children in Need in the process."

Partaking venues are LED gyms at Honiton, Axminster, Sidmouth, Ottery St Mary and the two gyms in Exmouth.

Closure for a makeover

HONITON'S Thelma Hulbert Gallery is set to close on a temporary basis as it undergoes a refurbishment.

The gallery will close on Christmas Eve, when its final exhibition of the year comes to an end, and will reopen in May next year.

Expert architects and conservationists have been called in to create a much larger general exhibition space at the centre and provision is also being made for a shop and coffee facilities and a sculpture garden.

The work has been funded partly by East Devon District Council and partly through a grant awarded by Arts Council South West.

Funds event for church

A TABLE top sale will take place in Gittisham Village Hall with all funds raised going to the Gittisham St Michael's Church repair fund.

The event takes place on Sunday, November 15th, from 2pm until 4pm.

Refreshments will be available. Anyone who would like to book a table, at a cost of £4, should contact 01404 650621.

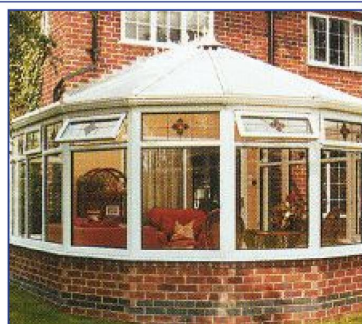

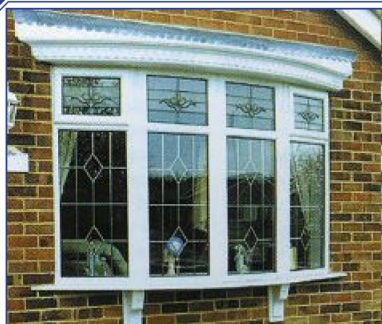

Craft fair for festive gifts

A CHRISTMAS craft fayre will be held on Saturday, November 21st at Shute Church between 10am — 3pm.

All funds raised will go to Shute Church.

Refreshments and light lunches will be available and those wishing to book a stall can call 01297 32404 for more information.

Butchers in TV help role

AN Axminster business has taken part in a TV show that aims to help inner city youngsters connect with food.

Complete Meats, South Street, welcomed the group to its premises recently as part of the initiative being screened by CITV.

Bicton College Home Farm was the location for the 10 part documentary series featuring nine children aged between nine and 12. The show followed the youngsters as they swapped their city lives for country living to follow the real life story of where their food comes from.

Sausages were on the menu for dinner one day and that meant that half of the children had to weigh the pigs and select those ready to go to the butchers, while the other half went to Complete Meats to learn how to make the finished product.

Shaun Vining, of Complete Meats, said: "The initiative is trying to get the kids to connect with their food and the work that goes on at a farm."

"They stayed at the college for a couple of weeks and during that time they came to us and made some sausages. We were featured on the CITV programme."

"The kids were very involved when they came to us and they were also involved in a lot of projects at Bicton. They seemed to really enjoy the whole experience."

Paul Redmore, farm manager at Bicton, said: "The children will learn that a lot of hard work and effort goes into producing food on their plates."

Emma Tennant, of CITV, added: "These days with so much more emphasis on healthy eating and where your food comes from it is great to find a format that can inform as well as entertain children of these issues."

The show is available to view at www.citv.co.uk.

King crowned in Strictly Woodturning competition

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER Power Tools hosted a woodturning event at Axe Valley Community College and Axminster Guildhall recently.

On Friday, October 23rd, and Saturday, October 24th, almost 100 delegates attended demonstrations put on by 12 world-class woodturners.

A spokesperson for the event said: "On the Friday evening at the Guildhall, Axminster hosted the Strictly Woodturning event, a variation on a theme of the BBC's popular Strictly Come Dancing."

"The event included a competition in which the 12 turners competed against each other at the lathe and were tasked with producing items such as a vase, goblet and lidded box in incredibly short bursts of eight minutes."

"At the end of the first round the four turners with the most votes went through to the semi-final. The four were Nick Agar, Jason Breach, Stuart King and Tracy Owen."

"The final was eventually contested between Nick Agar and Stuart King."

"Although Nick had the X Factor and was a big hit with the ladies in the audience, Stuart ultimately secured the judges' votes and was crowned the winner of Strictly Woodturning 2009."

"It was generally agreed that it was a uniquely entertaining night."

Tourism awards for two local businesses

ESCOT Park and Mazzard Farm Holiday Cottages, Ottery St Mary, were among category winners in the 2009-10 South West Tourism Excellence Awards.

Escot Park was one of three winners in the Small Visitor Attraction of the Year category and Mazzard Farm Holiday Cottages joined two other establishments as winners of Sustainable Tourism category.

The competition is organised by South West Tourism, which is the regional tourist board for the region.

A South West Tourism spokesperson said: "The awards aim to promote and reward the leading businesses and individuals in the tourism industry."

"Winners will have to wait until the actual awards event on November 23rd at Saunton Sands Hotel to find out whether they have won a Gold or Silver award."

"Guest speaker and presenter at this year's event will be Gill Williams, Travel Editor of the Sunday Mirror, who will be adding her own anecdotes and comment on the region's winners."

Extra duties for students

SIXTH form students at Honiton Community College will be taking on extra duties during the college lunch break.

Several sixth formers have signed up to become lunch time supervisors and their role will include patrolling the perimeter of the college and supervising year group areas. The scheme has been underway since the beginning of October and the college has said it is having a positive impact.

Assistant principal Andy Holt came up with the idea and he said: "We are rightly proud of our sixth formers in showing their maturity in taking on this role. They have worked well together as a team and are handling situations with younger students with the upmost professionalism. The role has boosted their confidence and self esteem."

Keen enthusiast of geneology Frances seeks pictured boy

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A BEER resident has unearthed family holiday snaps taken in Devon and Dorset before she was born.

One photo in particular caught her eye as it features an unknown boy, possibly from the Seaton area, who might still be around.

Frances Lee now lives in Beer but hails from Kent, and her family spent holidays on the south coast many decades ago.

There was a keen photographer in the family, Archibald Bogg, who was Frances's great uncle.

Archibald bought his first camera in 1921 and became the first in the family to own one.

Many of his photos are now in the possession of Archibald's 83-year-old son Ron, who lives in Woolacombe.

Frances, 62, is interested in genealogy and asked Ron if he had any old photos that could help her research.

Ron delivered and Frances said: "I was fascinated to see that they once visited east Devon before I was born in 1933.

◆ RON Hewlett (was Bogg) sat in dustcart with unknown boy at the front of cart in 1933

"I wondered whether the boy leading the donkey cart is still around and whether his family would like a copy of the photo?" The photo was taken in Seaton in 1933.

Ron is no longer known as Mr

Bogg, having changed his surname many years ago to Hewlett for personal family reasons.

Frances explained: "Ron did change the family name to Hewlett to stop his children getting bullied at school."

Anyone who recognises the boy leading the donkey cart can contact Frances by calling 01297 23589 or by e-mailing frances@mayleecat.com.

The big 3-0

I CAN remember quite vividly not being able to imagine being fifteen as it sounded so old. I couldn't wait to reach that age because it was so grown up. How things have changed.

This week, things seem so far from that age. Another fifteen years on and I await the big 3-0 as it looms, nearer by the day.

By the time you read this column I will be recovering from my weekend birthday bash (actually pre-birthday bash) and will be being whisked away to a fancy hotel in the Cotswolds by My Lovely Farmer to prepare for the ensuing birthday on Wednesday.

I wonder what will happen when I wake up on that day... will I suddenly be covered in scales? Will my hair turn white overnight (from the shock rather than the age) or will I feel no different?

I don't know why I find hitting 30 such a big thing. Everyone is different, some get hang-ups being forty or fifty. Some don't care and take it all in their stride. I wish I was like that. Instead, I didn't even like being 25 as it sounded too old. I'd swap back to then now, of course!

It is just a number, they say. You're as old as you feel, they say. Well, I only feel like I'm eighteen but it's not the face of an eighteen-year-old which meets me in the mirror.

The tell-tale signs are starting to emerge — the odd grey hair (easily and quickly dyed), the odd facial/laughter line and the odd achy joint (not so easily remedied).

But it's not all bad. I've got my health and happiness, both of which are priceless. I've got good skin, spirit of life and a Very Lovely Farmer.

Not to mention the great career. I am a lucky lady having a job I love doing by the age of 30. Trouble is, since I was given the editorship at Pulman's, I've been a very young editor — one of the youngest. Now, I'm going to be a 30-year-old, grown-up editor. It just doesn't have the same ring to it.

However, I am happy with where I am in my life at this time and everything I have achieved by this age (apart from not finishing my first novel, started age fifteen) so I should be satisfied and untroubled. Plus, I'll have to make a conscious effort not to be too morose about it or I'll run the risk of being thrown out of said ideal job and by said Lovely Farmer for driving them all round the twist.

There is an upside. It is that when someone does mistake you for being younger it cheers you up for at least a month.

I recently visited the Bristol Ikea store with my mum and, as we got in the lift on the way out, a man also joined us. My mum and I had a fully-loaded trolley each (as always) and he had one or two items like most normal shoppers. We held the lift for him to get in and he was so pleased he asked me if I was off to university!

I think I snorted through my nose with incredulous laughter but it was nice to know he thought I was that young. He seemed quite normal and didn't look as though he had a problem with his sight — although perhaps he thought I was a mature student. My mum said afterwards, "I just kept quiet when he said that. I knew you'd like it." She wasn't wrong (never is), I'd like it if anyone wanted to knock ten years off my age, who wouldn't?

Now, I wonder where I'll be ten years from now? Will I still be editor of this paper? I hope so. Although I doubt I'll still be writing this column, I expect readers will be bored to tears of it by then — if you're not already!

Anyway, 30 is the new 18, that's what I'm telling myself, although I won't be disappointed if I get asked for ID in a pub in the Cotswolds.

■ DUE to my fairytale mini-break of being whisked away by my farmer in shining armour, my sub-editor, Lucie, will be filling my shoes but not my column, so when it doesn't appear please don't all clap at once... at least spread it out a bit.

Mapping for Successful Hearing

COLIN Eaton offers Speech Mapping as standard to all his clients when fitting hearing instruments. A simple procedure which uses the latest technology to accurately set up and validate your instrument for you.

Speech mapping uses real life, calibrated speech, as opposed to the old system of "pure tone Real Ear Measurement".

Playing speech audio through the aid, a small microphone picks up the results and displays them against the calibrated chart in a graphical form.

Colin is able then to match these results with your own audiogram to accurately set up separate levels and pitches on all the option settings within your hearing instrument.

Colin can run speech mapping with most hearing aids and will be happy to sit with you and run through the process at his Honiton branch, even if Honiton Hearing did not supply your instrument. This will enable you to hear and understand the improvement in results that is produced by speech mapping.

Contact Colin NOW to see if your hearing is "mappable" and to make an appointment.

Support for Shelterbox

EDITOR — I was so pleased to read in your recent issue the letter from Ruth Hastings asking for the address of Shelterbox.

We all of us in Seaton value the comfort of our homes and as one who has suffered a temporary loss of a home through flooding, the cause of helping those in the Phillipines and Samoa is very close to my heart. Now that I have the address of Shelterbox I can give them my support.

Instead of sending Christmas cards to my friends in Seaton whom I see regularly I shall send the money I would have spent to Shelterbox and give my friends a cheery greeting.

'Misleading and unhelpful' CEO comments a bit rich

EDITOR — The first thought that entered my mind on reading the recent letter from Mark Williams, CEO of East Devon District Council (EDDC), was why this bid to improve public relations had been left to so late a date in the proceedings.

My second thought was that it was a bit rich to go on to label anybody who objected to the Tesco scheme as being misleading and unhelpful, and unfair to EDDC.

Surely any animosity towards EDDC is more a reflection of the cavalier treatment of the local community by the latter's planning department rather than any inherent negativity by the local people?

The tag "misleading and unhelpful" is in my opinion, and my experience, more truthfully applied to the planning department than to the community at large, and personally, I object to the CEO taking this stance.

One accepts perfectly well that there are constraints placed on local governments' freedom of action through the principle that only legal and/or material considerations can contribute to the planning process.

Legal considerations I can understand and are presumably well defined. I have more trouble with the term 'material' which, it seems to me, could mean anything you wanted it to mean.

However if this latter term is defined as not including the communities' preferences, there is little point in Mr Williams adding the homily of EDDC acting on "the sincere belief in Seaton's vibrant future", as belief clearly has no place in the deliberations.

There have been a number of articles in the national press over recent years commenting on Tesco's near monopoly of the food retail market and also the company's propensity to "land bank", with the effect, if not the aim, of preventing rivals from setting up in competition.

Mr Williams mentions that studies show that many people shop outside of Seaton: this may be so, I do myself, but do these studies always show that they go to Tesco, and even if they do, could it be because there are no other real alternative supermarkets within reasonable distance?

One suspects taking the local area they have a theoretical monopoly already, so, a different supermarket at Seaton would provide a choice for people of local towns who do not want to always shop at Tesco.

There is one other aspect of Mr Williams's letter that I do not understand and that is the issue of the ownership of the land.

Why did EDDC let Sainsbury's go ahead with its planning application, if a pre-requisite of getting approval was ownership of the land?

In this context, one should note the curiously worded comment that the Sainsbury's bid was on "land that the district council was unable to confirm would actually be sold to it".

Does this mean an initial offer of the land was made to Sainsbury's? However, if on the other hand ownership is not a requirement for approval, as one could also deduce, the fact that Tesco owns its plot is not material to the issue. True, false — shades of meaning?

Whatever one would like to say about the whole debate, there must have been some failure of communication by EDDC otherwise the people of Seaton would not be so upset. If EDDC finds itself tied by central government, then let it say so, so we may bring pressure to bear on our local MP.

Also perhaps a little less effort, and money being spent on fighting amalgamation with Devon County Council and more attention given to local affairs might be more helpful and less misleading.

One last thought, in many other countries developers have to come up with some sort of tangible, not notional, community amenity investment before being allowed to have their way. About time we had that here.

Discovery of monster predator, the Tescosaurus

EDITOR — We learn that a monster predator has been discovered off the Jurassic Coast.

Apparently, it was a vicious hunter with powerful jaws and huge razor-sharp teeth. It preyed on large fish and dominated large tracts of the earth.

Presumably, in 150 million years' time, the Tescosaurus will also be discovered. Tescosaurus Wrecks will be so named for obvious reasons. Why will it become a fossil? Will climate change affect its demise?

Will the earth spawn concentrations of Sainsbosaurus, Aldisaurus, Liddlesaurus, Asdasaurus and even Cooppsaurus?

The chief executive of East Devon District Council has berated us from holding different views from his own.

It is not a question of 'not listening' but to whom is the council listening?

We know how changes will be necessary to accommodate the Tescosaurus at Seaton. How many dinosaurs will be the result?

Now we have Ottery! Reading the pronouncements by representatives of Tesco, the Tescosaurus will be welcomed with open trolleys.

Remember this creature is a vicious hunter with powerful jaws and huge razor-like teeth.

How many roundabouts will have to be hammered before future generations discover its own fossilised remains? Every little tooth hurts!

Top ABBA tribute coming to Axminster

ABBA tribute band Abba Gold have been performing for over 13 years, having played over 2200 shows, to over 2 million people, as well as the millions of people who have seen them during various television appearances. On their last tour Abba Gold sold out more than 80% of the venues they played.

Their largest audience was 93,000 people when they headlined a massive festival in Aberdeen in 2001. Also on the bill were the Sugababes, Gareth Gates, Darius and Hear'say.

Abba Gold are proud to say that they sing and play live at every show. They create that Abba sound with all your favourites plus those long forgotten album tracks that only the true Abba fans will remember.

All costumes in their tribute band have been meticulously recreated. The Abba Gold show includes a minimum of 8 costume changes, really illuminated by their fabulous lighting engineers using pyrotechnics. They have their own sound engineers on tour with them to recreate that special Abba sound.

Abba Gold adapt the show to cater for all types of venues however big or small and always ensure a party atmosphere. Previous venues have included theatres, leisure centres, hotels, nightclubs, and open air festivals throughout the UK and abroad. They have also shared the stage with Darius, Gareth Gates, Slade, Steve Harley, Liberty X, Atomic Kitten, The Sugababes and many more.

As well as live musical performances, Abba Gold also enjoy regular television appearances and radio broadcasts. Their latest television appearance was earlier this year on the BBC. The program was called 'Get Your Dream Job'.

TV actress helps new choir to be smash hit

BY ANDERS LARSSON

MEMBERSHIP of a community choir started in September is close to reaching the 100 mark after an enormous response from keen singers.

Music teacher, musician and composer Edward Jacobs is the man behind the Whitford-based choir.

The first meeting and rehearsal took place on September 11th and 68 prospective members turned up at Whitford Village Hall.

As things progressed, members agreed on a formal name for the group, Axe Valley Community Choir, which now has between 80 and 90 members.

A committee has also been formed with all roles filled.

The choir is also very honoured to have actress Sally Geeson as their patron. Sally has appeared in many well-known films and TV shows including Carry on Abroad, Z-Cars and Bless this House.

After the first meeting, Mr Jacobs said: "The choir is open to anyone from the east Devon, west Dorset and south Somerset areas, but at the moment we cannot take any new members until January next year."

"There has been a renewed interest in choirs recently, particularly with Last Choir Standing on television and the series with Gareth Malone.

"People with little or no singing experience or musical background are most welcome, as are people who have been in singing groups or other choirs before.

"The most important factor is that everyone is welcome and the choir will be run with the view to boosting people's confidence and, above all, having a lot of fun and a great sing together — that's what a community choir is all about.

"The standard of singing is improving every week and we already have two performances booked. The first performance will be open air carol singing in Seaton town centre and the second is at Whitford on the afternoon of December 19th. We are pleased to have been asked to perform for the Christmas season."

Take care of garden birds

IT'S that time of the year again! Cold winds are biting, the temperatures are plummeting and, for garden birds, the winter months can be cruel unless we make every effort to provide a source of food to sustain them.

The simple fact is that many species of birds associated with gardens and hedgerows have now come to rely on bird tables and feeders, throughout the year and especially in winter, so it is essential that we keep them well supplied with a variety of food mixtures.

What to feed? Today there is a wide range of foods available, the varying types attracting different species. A staple is millet seed which will draw house sparrows, finches, collared doves and dunnocks, while greenfinches and the tit species tend to prefer peanuts and sunflower seeds. I have also found that peanuts will bring in greater spotted woodpeckers and nuthatches. You can so buy mixtures containing flaked maize, peanut granules and sunflower seeds.

However, don't make the mistake of buying cheap seed mixtures containing beans, split peas, lentils or dried rice as they can only be eaten by birds such as pheasants and woodpigeons. Wheat and barley grains are also sometimes used to bulk up mixtures and, again, these will tend to attract the larger ground feeding birds which will, in turn, deter smaller species.

I have found that nyjer seeds are incredibly popular with goldfinches. Tiny, black and containing oil, they need a special feeder with small holes and once discovered by these lovely finches will prove a constant lure. Another top of the menu attraction is sunflower seeds. Choose the black as opposed to striped ones, as they have much higher oil content and will be taken by a variety of species. Peanuts are a staple attraction and when crushed attract robins, wrens and dunnocks which feed on the ground. Be aware, though, that these birds are then vulnerable to predation by cats.

Incidentally, if like me you are under siege from sparrowhawks then make sure that your feeders and bird table are adjacent to some form of cover, such as a dense bush into which small birds can dive for cover if a hawk makes an attack.

These hawks are bold and swift and certainly not deterred by domestic surroundings, often hunting panicked small prey birds into glass windows. However, this has sometimes proved their undoing, for occasionally a sparrowhawk is discovered dead beneath glass, having crashed into it at speed and broken its neck.

Another sustaining winter food is fat balls, but these must always be removed from the nylon mesh bags as small birds can all too easily become trapped and injured in the nylon. Bird cake can be made at home by mixing in a bowl melted fat with seeds, nuts, dried cake and cheese. Stir it well and then allow the mixture to set in small containers or simply put lumps of the cake on the bird table.

A highly popular food is live mealworms, but they are very expensive. Occasionally I treat my aviary birds with dried mealworms but even they are very costly. One can also obtain ant pupae from bird food suppliers, a food very popular with insect eaters, such as robins and dunnocks.

What not to feed? Avoid dry biscuits as birds can choke on them and never put out dog or cat food as this will attract squirrels, magpies, jackdaws and gulls, all of which will see off small birds. Grey squirrels can be a menace. Agile, determined and aggressive, they can readily climb bird tables and reach feeders unless they are protected by deterrent bars or cages.

Now is the time to plan ahead for winter feeding and to make sure that "your" birds come through the cold months ready to breed next spring.

It's a pity CEO's clarification was such patronising claptrap

EDITOR — I am sure we are all gratified to see that EDDC have finally noticed that there is a body of opinion against them in Seaton and Chief Executive Mark Williams has condescended to "clarify" the Tesco planning issues. Pity it was so much patronising claptrap.

First of all he mentions a demand for the old holiday park site to be cleaned up. I think it was the derelict land that was meant, Mr Williams, not the existing holiday camp area which Tesco has now demolished and converted into an eyesore for the foreseeable future.

Then he tells us that the Sainsbury's proposal was on council-owned land which would have to have been placed on the open market with the danger that a rival may have beaten Sainsbury's to it. Fair enough if that's the law, but perhaps he would like to explain why the same does not apply to the TIC, youth centre and public toilets area which is apparently being made available to Tesco? Whilst we are on that subject, why is so much space needed? I could understand removing the TIC or the youth centre but why both? Won't the tram station be in the way? My understanding is that this is to provide an approach to Tesco, perhaps I'm missing something but couldn't the TIC and the toilets stay in place and still allow an approach to Tesco?

Mr Williams states: "Sheer force of numbers expressing a preference for a particular supermarket operator, although interesting, are unable to sway the proper legal application of planning law and policy."

Now that is interesting, planning law perhaps but surely policy should include provision to ensure that there is an element of competition within the area. If it doesn't then it should. Most people were not expressing a preference for Sainsbury's because they had a particular loyalty to that store but because of the fact, which is obvious to all, that there are already more than enough Tesco stores in the vicinity.

The planning meeting seems to have been held on the basis of Tesco vs Sainsbury's or rather south site vs north site. This seems to me to have led to a fundamentally flawed conclusion that, at the end of the day, there had to be a winner and a loser. EDDC may have been correct to have declined the Sainsbury's application but that does not inevitably lead to the conclusion that the Tesco plan should have been approved. There were enough major issues, mainly environmental, which did not seem to have been properly addressed to have declined the Tesco application.

To all those who believe that Tesco will provide affordable housing, this is absolute nonsense. Tesco has said it will make land available to someone else for the development of affordable housing. Hardly the same thing. Considering the costs of raising the ground level, it seems obvious that affordable housing would be completely out of the question, as indeed would any development on that land during the current economic situation. I note that Tesco is saying that it now plans to bring in 25 per cent of the necessary spoil to raise the land by road, the rest via its questionable pipeline scheme. How cynical does one have to be to conjecture that the 25 per cent may just be enough for its store? The 75 per cent? Probably won't happen.

So Mr Williams and EDDC have the best interests of Seaton at heart, yet they saddle us with a store we do not want and a demolition site which will probably remain an eyesore for a long time to come. I'm sure we are all glad that they are planning for a "vibrant future" for Seaton. Just think what we might have got if they hadn't been.

Failing to see the plan point

EDITOR — I was very interested to read the letter from Mark Williams in Pulman's View. What he writes is technically correct, but what he has failed to see is that had Sainsbury's (or any other store) put in the awful plan which Liatris/Tesco put forward for a monstrous warehouse, and Tesco had the foresight and care for the community which the Sainsbury's plan displayed, people would still have gone for the imaginative plan beside The Underfleet.

This plan, irrespective of the supermarket chain, met all the criteria. It fronted The Underfleet (as required by EDDC in its design plan), it included a beautifully designed visitor centre, gave prominence to the Sustrans terminus, a tramway station to be proud of, and sufficient landscaping to enhance the skatepark and children's play area. All this without losing any parking spaces!

We are told that had the Sainsbury's plan been accepted the site would have had to be put out to public tender and they might not have been the highest bidder. Is it not the case that once full planning consent has been granted it must be carried through exactly as stated? Therefore, another supermarket chain would still have been bound to include the visitor centre, cycle hub, tramway station, skatepark and children's play area, in accordance with the plan as accepted, so don't try to fob us off with "Tesco was the only possible solution".

What Mr Williams does tell us, however, is that there is still a long way to go as a further planning application must be put forward regarding raising the site levels and that "if this site can be developed it will unlock other developments" such as the visitor centre.

The future of Seaton is therefore dependant upon the building of this monstrosity before any further development can take place, so we will not have our visitor centre by 2012 when Weymouth (not a million miles away) hosts the marine part of the Olympics. In the meantime, not only have we lost our swimming pool and holiday park, EDDC is wishing to prematurely demolish our TIC and public toilets in addition to the youth centre which they have allowed to deteriorate. Is there any other town which has been so mistreated by its district council?

East Devon District Council, both officers and members, have been bamboozled by the promise of council tax revenue from homes which may, or may not materialise, to the detriment of the people of Seaton. May God forgive them.

The council's planners do not know best

EDITOR — In seeking to excuse the treatment of Seaton at the hands of EDDC, chief executive Mark Williams reveals a common attitude of people in positions of power.

His letter essentially assumes that Seaton residents are too stupid to understand what is good for them, and need a benign dictatorship like the council to do their thinking.

He implies that his planners know best. Well they don't. There are many perfectly valid reasons to reject the Tesco scheme.

Local people are perfectly able to decide whether an aircraft-hangar sized Tesco plus car park will be an aesthetic improvement upon the currently empty site.

They can see that a massive store will close many of the shops and cafes that remain in Seaton's Town Centre; something the council's own consultants also pointed out. They think it obvious that tourists don't visit towns with no facilities who put a supermarket on their remaining space.

They are sceptical whether affordable housing will be built on the remainder of the site, and frankly disbelieving that any tourist or leisure provision might. They can see that the process of getting hundreds of thousands of tonnes of fill into the site will make large parts of the Axe Valley pretty horrible for many months if not years, never mind about the risk to body and property, along the route.

They also know that Tesco has a monopoly in east Devon, and it is in their interests to see that monopoly broken. Opposition is not based on some irrational hatred of Tesco.

The fact is the council's planners have supported the scheme they wanted all along, and never mind about poor old Seaton. There is still the opportunity to use that site in a way which will allow much needed facilities to be built, and housing too if there is a land swap, but most local people are aware EDDC will be hindering rather than helping that process.

If there is any shred of interest in Seaton at the Knowle perhaps they can start by preventing the permanent loss of the youth centre on the site.

How will it attract visitors?

EDITOR — Having read Mark Williams's letter regarding the Seaton Regeneration there are a few comments I would like to make.

A) Yes, the derelict buildings belonging to the camp and bordering the tram track were an eyesore and should have been demolished years ago. But that didn't include flattening the pool, restaurant and other amenities.

B) The reason we as residents preferred the Sainsbury's plan was that the design for the store and visitor centre was more attractive and would have been a real focal point in the town.

C) Considering the planners were so picknicky over mere window frames, causing a shop which was a real asset to the town to close, it does make one wonder who knows what is best for Seaton. We've already lost the youth club, swimming pool and, of course, the aforementioned shop. Are any of these assets going to be replaced? How is the town going to attract the visitors we so desperately need?

Sponsorship for students who use their enterprise

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

YOUNG Enterprise students at Colyton Grammar School have received £80 in sponsorship from the managing director of Dead Sea Health Care Ltd.

The money will be used to help the students develop their business plans. Young Enterprise is a national competition in which business students create their own company for a year in the hope of making a profit. Verve Ltd, headed by managing director Emillie Moon, is Colyton Grammar's team this year and they will soon be offering a range of products that will be available to buy from the school.

The project is at an early stage and there were no finer details regarding the Feniton facility mentioned in a press bulletin issued on November 5th.

£25million investment cycle route is proposed

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A CYCLE way between Feniton and Sidmouth has been proposed as part of a £25 million investment programme.

Devon County Council's cabinet has agreed to invest £25 million up to 2012 as part of a new cycling strategy to make the county a premier destination for cycling tourism.

A number of major schemes will be funded as part of the project, and it has been proposed that a cycle way between Feniton and Sidmouth should be created.

The project is at an early stage and there were no finer details regarding the Feniton facility mentioned in a press bulletin issued on November 5th.

But a council spokesperson did say: "Proposed schemes will provide a new route between Sidmouth and Feniton, a link from Buckfastleigh to Dartington and another into Totnes through Littlehempston.

"Abandoned railway lines, estuary routes and off-road routes will be used wherever possible to develop the cycle network.

"Devon was ranked the top county council in the country on satisfaction with cycle routes and local rights of way network in the recent National Highways and Transport Public Satisfaction Survey (NHT Survey).

"To build on that success, the county cycling strategy will be developed by the county council to set out ambitions for the next 20 years, running alongside the Local Transport Plan.

"The strategy will aim to target investment in future routes to add to the existing 1,000km of dedicated cycling routes, improving cycling routes to schools, rolling out Bikeability cycle training across the county, and completing Devon's sections of the National Cycle Network to link to all 28 market and coastal towns in the county."

Dance show proceeds to blind charity

COLYTON based T and N Dancers will be taking part in a charity dance show at Colyton Town Hall on Friday and Saturday, November 27th and 28th.

Doors open from 7pm and the show starts at 7.30pm.

Tickets are priced at £4.50 per adult and £3 per child - children under four are permitted free of charge.

All proceeds are in aid of Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Julie Richens, Guide Dogs volunteer, said: "We are thrilled to be able to help organise this lovely, family event and hope that lots of people, including supporters of Guide Dogs, will join the families of the dancers for a really uplifting evening of entertainment.

"There will be a raffle and refreshments in the interval."

A Christmas tree festival

A FLOWER and Christmas tree festival will be held in the St Lawrence Church, Southleigh, on Saturday and Sunday, December 5th and 6th.

The event will run from 10.30am until 4pm on both days. From 4pm on the Sunday a Chrstingle service will be held in the church.

PCs attend seniors' group

AXMINSTER Seniors' Forum, a branch of the Senior Council for Devon, held a well-attended and interesting meeting recently.

PCSO Andy Trott and PC Darren Herridge started the afternoon by talking to members about Policing in the Community with questions and answers as it went along. Many issues were covered such as vagrants, vandalism, mobile phones, yellow lines and many other subjects. Everyone found it very interesting and before they left they provided pens and instruction for marking property so that if stolen there was a better chance of recovery. They also left leaflets on various safety subjects.

A report was read out on behalf of Pamela Johnson who was unable to attend. She had approached Tesco about keeping the steps and walkway clear as it had become a hazard with leaves on the steps which when wet were extremely slippery. They had made efforts on the third visit to clear the steps and hopefully the walkways will be kept clear. Bushes had been trimmed back and the ivy on one of the handrails had been cut off. Everyone appreciates that it is an on going problem with the leaves falling but it was felt it could be a safety hazard to all ages.

Computer classes were still on the agenda with beginners classes starting this month at the college, for people interested in them. Classes for members of the Axminster Senior's Forum would hopefully start in the New Year. There were to be expert patient programmes at the Axminster hospital once it is fully open in the New Year. These of course help people with long term health conditions to enjoy a better quality of life. They are also to have courses for carers to improve their own quality of life.

Ann Collins gave members a report on the Senior Council for Devon's annual meeting held in Exeter in October.

Sue Waters asked members to introduce themselves so that those who had only come that day would get to know everyone and asked them how they would improve the Senior's Forum and make the group more sociable.

The Tesco's bus was discussed and it was felt that apart from getting people up the hill to the square it had no relation to the town bus that had been envisaged by the Senior's Forum originally, bringing people in from all sides of town and returning them home.

The next meeting of the Axminster Seniors' Forum, a social event, will be held at the Church Room, Church Street on Monday, December 14th at 2.30pm. Members and non-members are welcome to get together and chat.

Speaker struck by drama

THE first meeting of Axminster Horticultural Society's winter talks turned out to be a dramatic one.

Ann Mossdrop, the speaker, who had driven to Axminster in her vintage Ford 10 motor car affectionally known as Gypsy, was turning into the car park when she was hit by another car overtaking her at that point.

Though the car was badly damaged, Miss Mossdrop emerged shaken but unhurt and decided to carry on with the talk. With an offer of transport home by a member of the society and her pride and joy, Gypsy, taken off to a garage, she gallantly set up the equipment she had brought along and took members on a pictorial journey Trekking in the Transylvanian Alps (Romania).

The holiday had taken place in 2003 with a company called Exodus. Planning to downgrade the physical element after several years of adventure holidays, she found that on receiving the details it was to be quite a tough one. The first three days were to be excursions returning each day to the campsite. One was to Dracula's Castle which looked very pretty, having been built for a princess. In daylight it looked a very desirable residence, night time might have been different! Monasteries were in abundance with beautifully decorated ceilings. As they travelled they came across small village monasteries all having some gold and much detail in their decoration.

Alpine meadows came next, though these had their drawbacks with the guide going ahead to speak to the man in charge of animals grazing the fields. The dogs kept by the farmers were trained to kill and they had to have permission to go through safely. Animals and rustlers are hazards and the dogs have to be trained in this way. At the camps the trekkers had to erect their own tents but food was cooked by a couple who also did the shopping. The toilet facilities were, of course, outdoors and a warning had been issued to them all about the bears.

Ann said the first few days were spent wondering what every little rustle could be but with no sightings of bears it was put to the back of their minds. As no instructions were issued on what to do if one appeared it was better not to think about them. All the equipment was transported by a rather ancient lorry and, when necessary, the walkers as well.

The holiday progressed further into the Transylvanian Alps, a landslide made for an interesting diversion as everyone had to find their own way through the tangled trees. Next came a steady climb, Ann described it as a scramble. It was so steep in places that ropes are left so that people can pull themselves up.

The Alps are so popular that people travel from all over the world to walk them and the signs were so clear that wherever you were you could not get lost. Each route having a coloured square, triangle or arrow.

The group were heading for what they had been told was to be a mountain hut and having passed many they were not expecting anything too luxurious. The views were spectacular and the effort made by the group was obviously worth it. The mountain hut, when reached after several days, looked more like a grand hotel beautifully built of wood.

Unfortunately for Ann, her leg started to give her pain, getting worse over a period of days, so that she had to be transported in the lorry with a promise of medical help at a place where supplies were to be collected. This turned out to be a veterinary practice. In the next village the doctor had gone on holiday. Eventually, help was found and as it was feared her leg would be badly damaged if she kept on it without support she was put in plaster for the rest of her holiday and journey home. This did not stop her from getting the best out of the remaining days and by the slides she had enjoyed everything right up to the end.

Reaching the end of their holiday they arrived in Bucharest and were given a choice of things to do. Ann chose a village where houses and churches had been brought from all over the country and erected on site.

She felt it was somewhere she could go by herself and not hold the others up. The slides showed it was very interesting choice with so many beautiful wooden buildings.

Members enjoyed the evening and were extremely grateful for her staying and entertaining them under the circumstances.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, November 18th at the United Reformed Church Hall, Chard Street, Axminster at 7.30pm when the annual meeting will take place followed by a talk entitled The Upper Amazon.

Thanks for fundraising help

THE Axe Valley National Trust chairman and committee would like to thank all those who came to the fundraising event on Saturday, October 24th for their support and generosity.

They would especially like to thank those who brought cakes, jams, produce, plants and books for the various stalls as well as other items for the raffle and bric-a-brac stalls.

A total of £462 was raised which will go towards donations the centre is making to our local east Devon National Trust properties, Killerton House and A la Ronde.

Reminded of town's long and interesting history

THIS month's meeting of the All Saints and District Women's Institute was held on Tuesday last when members were taken on a walk round Axminster.

Les Berry has for a long time been interested in history and old postcards and pictures of the area. The earliest he had found of Axminster was from 1669, which showed the damage done to the Minster tower during the Civil War in 1644, when besieged by Roundhead soldiers. It was very interesting to see slides detailing changes to the town over many years. Some places like Stoney Bridge seemed hardly changed. Some places look similar, but have changed their occupation, like the old brush factory (very labour intensive from pictures of the workers), now the feather dyers. Other places and firms no longer exist, like Norrington and Son engineers, thatched cottages, the Black Lion Inn, all on Castle Hill. It was interesting to see changes to places like The George Hotel (where the hunt used to meet); the Bell Hotel, now the site of shops; and Market Square.

Axminster has a very long and interesting history, of which it is good to be reminded.

The next meeting will be held in All Saints Village Hall on December 1st at 2.30pm and will be the Christmas party, when members will dress up, let their hair down and eat delicious food!

On Wednesday, December 9th there will be a Christmas concert also in All Saints Village Hall, at 7.15pm which is open to all at the cost of £5.

Lyme Regis Town Band, Chris Bradwell with his clarinet, Iain MacDonald — singing, and many other features will entertain displaying local talent. It promises yet again to be a wonderful evening.

the churches

With Nigel Speller

JUDITH Roberts of the Axminster Church of England Team offers these reflections at this time of remembrance:

We will remember them... again this year we gather in public places, churches and around war memorials to remember specifically the dead of two world wars, and the other victims of conflict since then. This simple, poignant act of respect holds enormous power and in those two minutes of silence, what do we hear? The clamour of the past? The sounds of the present in the roar of traffic, or the cawing of rooks in country places? The call of humanity for peace, for safety, for justice? The call of God to be peacemakers? The words of promise in scripture that one day God will wipe away all tears; there will be no more mourning or crying or pain? We do remember them, and remember also our privileges and responsibilities for our present and future world. Age may perhaps weary us, but may the years not condemn.

Last weekend too memories of Allhallows School founded in Honiton in the 16th Century were brought to life again when the Annual Memorial Service was held at the church of St Michael the Archangel, Honiton. At this service, prayers and thanksgivings were offered for the school and its members, especially the recently departed. The preacher this year was the Bishop of Crediton, the Right Revd Bob Evens, whose father and brother had both attended the school.

Lessons were read by the president of the Old Honitonian's Club and by a member of the Allhallows Trustees. A large congregation of former students at the school and friends attended, and remained for tea kindly provided by the ladies of Honiton parish.

Continuing this week and for the next three Wednesdays is a course on listening skills in pastoral visiting. This course is held at Seaton Parish Church at 7.30pm each Wednesday until December 2nd — sessions are for 90 minutes only and for enquiries or vacancies call Sue Price at 01297 22314.

We reported some weeks ago of the link between the Exeter Diocese and the Church in Melanesia. While the link with Exeter remains very strong it has recently been announced that the Bishop of Exeter has handed over chairmanship of the Melanesia Mission to the Bishop of St Edmundsbury and Ipswich, the Right Revd Nigel Stock. Bishop James Mason, priest in charge of Plympton St Maurice and an Assistant Bishop in Exeter Diocese has been elected to the Trustees of the Melanesian Mission UK. While on the subject of our overseas links, a note for the diary — the next open meeting for the liaison group and friends of the Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf will be on May 1st 2010 in Exeter.

More news from Exeter — having elected a new Diocesan Synod it now becomes necessary to elect certain officers and members of committees which support the Synod. Two vice presidents of the Synod, one lay and one clergy have been elected for the next three years — Charles Hodgson being returned to this post, and the Revd Douglas Dettmer from the Raddon Team Ministry is newly elected for the clergy. Elections to other posts and various committees follow in the next few weeks. In 2010 the Diocesan Synod will meet at 10am in County Hall, Exeter, on Saturday, March 27th and Saturday, October 9th. Visitors are welcome.

News of another — local Synod: Honiton Deanery Synod with its representatives of the thirty plus churches in east Devon also meets soon. Their meeting is on November 19th at 7.30pm at Yarcombe Village Hall, and the topic is The Bible Society — non-members are always welcome. Synod has just appointed a new secretary, Sarah Johnson as successor to Graham Jones of Combyne. Once again, dates for the meetings in 2010 have been booked and will be held on March 2nd, June 23rd and November 25th.

As mentioned a few weeks back, the brass chandeliers in Colyton church are now shining after their annual clean and ready to welcome Christmas congregations, which will as usual include two carol services for members of Colyton Grammar School.

Other parts of Colyton church are also gleaming as the scaffold used during the restoration of the vast west window has been removed and the surrounding area given a good spring clean. There are now just a few of the lower windows to be replaced and repaired and this can be done by ladder. Plans are now being made for a thanksgiving service for the completion of this project and in appreciation of all those who contributed towards the cost of this work.

Colyton church is the venue for the next concert for Colyton on November 21st at 7.30pm — tickets from Brainwave Market Square, Colyton.

This month sees the free distribution of the autumn edition of Devon Heaven, from Exeter Diocese, which has gone to all Anglican churches — contact 01392 272686 for information.

New convent homes and offices plan turned down

A PROPOSED development in Ottery St Mary has been refused.

Seavalley Properties had hoped to build four new houses, eight new apartments and offices with parking and associated amenities on the Marist Convent site in the town.

The plans caused uproar in Ottery with many residents venting their anger over the development. Town councillors were also against the idea.

More than 30 letters of objection were sent to the planning department at East Devon District Council (EDDC) and dozens more people voiced their opinions during a highly charged planning meeting.

A spokesman for the planning department at EDDC said the application had been refused because of the inappropriate design and the lack of provision for recreational space and educational infrastructure.

He said: "The proposal, by virtue of the inappropriate design of the apartment block, would neither complement nor reinforce local architectural and townscape distinctiveness nor preserve or enhance the character, appearance or setting of the conservation area, and the works would therefore conflict with the terms and objectives of national and local planning policy and guidance.

"Due to their height and proximity they (the proposal) would have an overbearing and unacceptable impact on the amenity and outlook of neighbouring occupiers in Franklea

Close. The occupation of the proposed development would result in additional demand in the locality for the provision of public recreational space and educational infrastructure. No mechanism has been offered to or agreed with the local planning authority that would secure the provision of (in the case of public recreational space) or an appropriate contribution towards the provision of such public recreational space and education infrastructure.

"It is not considered that the developers case put forward, setting out viability issues, is of sufficient weight to warrant the setting aside of established policies, particularly in this case where there are no clearly defined community benefits."

THE ROYAL BRITISH LEGION

The Poppy Appeal 2009

For their sake, wear a poppy

20% of the money made from this feature will be going to the charity

Remembrance

THE Royal British Legion is the nation's custodian of Remembrance, ensuring that people remember those who have given their lives for the freedom we enjoy today. The act of observing a Two Minute Silence began in 1919 following the Armistice at 11am on the 11th November 1918 at the end of the First World War.

Remembrance is not just about those who fought in the two World Wars of the last century, but also about those involved in the many other conflicts worldwide since 1945 and those still fighting for peace and freedom now. It is also about learning from the past and resolving to make the world a better place to live in the future.

The poppy has become the symbol of Remembrance worn during the weeks leading to Remembrance Sunday and Armistice Day. Each year the nation expresses its unequivocal support for The Royal British Legion's charity work through the Poppy Appeal. The 2009 Poppy Appeal is emphasising the need to help the Afghan generation of the Armed Forces and their families – today and for the rest of their lives. The demand for our support continues as Service men and women, young and old, call on us for emotional, financial and practical help. Whatever you give will help us carry on with our work. For their sake, wear a poppy – and please help our fundraising by making a donation or volunteering your time.

In Flanders' Fields

by John McCrae, 1915

In Flanders' fields the poppies blow

Between the crosses, row on row,

That mark our place: and in the sky

The larks, still bravely singing, fly

Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago

We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,

Loved and were loved, and now we lie

In Flanders' fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;

To you from failing hands we throw

The torch; be yours to hold it high,

If ye break faith with us who die

We shall not sleep, though poppies grow

In Flanders' Fields.

For the Fallen

by Laurence Binyon

*With proud thanksgiving, a mother for her children,
England mourns for her dead across the sea.
Flesh of her flesh they were, spirit of her spirit,
Fallen in the cause of the free.*

*Solemn the drums thrill; Death august and royal Sings sorrow up into immortal spheres,
There is music in the midst of desolation
And a glory that shines upon our tears.*

*They went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted;
They fell with their faces to the foe.*

*They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.*

*They mingle not with their laughing comrades again;
They sit no more at familiar tables of home;
They have no lot in our labour of the day-time;
They sleep beyond England's foam.*

*But where our desires are and our hopes profound,
Felt as a well-spring that is hidden from sight,
To the innermost heart of their own land they are known
As the stars are known to the Night;*

*As the stars that shall be bright when we are dust,
Moving in marches upon the heavenly plain;
As the stars that are starry in the time of our darkness,
To the end, to the end, they remain.*

Poppy Petals

by Buckley Clarke/Wedgbury

*Old soldiers never die
They simply fade they say
Is that the price I ask myself
That soldiers have to pay?*

*Bugle notes and drum beats
Flash of sun on brass
He hears the call as comrades all
Tramp the long march past*

*Warrior fading quickly
Like a weak pale winter sun
Bowed and creeping slowly
Life's race is all but run.*

*The red poppy leaves are wrinkled
One by one they fall
Soldier, can you answer still?
When the bugle notes do call.*

*Play the music gently
No harsh notes sound, I ask
For the poppy leaves are falling
Glory days now past*

*Last petal now has fallen
Old soldiers gone away
Last post music calling
Old soldiers out to play.*

*Bugle notes and drum beats
Flash of sun on brass
He hears their call, his footsteps fall,
Away on their long march past*

How the Poppy Appeal began

SOME of the bloodiest fighting of World War One took place in the Flanders and Picardy regions of Belgium and Northern France. The poppy was the only thing which grew in the aftermath of the complete devastation. McCrae, a doctor serving there with the Canadian Armed Forces, deeply inspired and moved by what he saw, wrote 'In Flanders' Fields'.

The first donations for artificial poppies were given in Britain on 11th November 1921, inspired by John McCrae's 1915 poem.

Moina Michael, an American War Secretary with the YMCA, was moved by McCrae's work to write: And now the torch and Poppy red, wear in honour of our dead. She bought red poppies and sold them to her friends to raise money for Servicemen in need. Her French colleague, Madame Guerin, proposed the making of artificial poppies and their sale to help ex-Servicemen and their dependants.

In Britain, Major George Howson, a young infantry officer, formed the Disabled Society, to help disabled ex-Servicemen and women from World War I. Howson suggested to the Legion that members of the Disabled Society could make poppies and the Poppy Factory was subsequently founded in 1922.

The original poppy was designed so that workers with a disability could easily assemble it and that principle remains today. More than 70% of Poppy Factory employees have a disability or chronic illness.

For further information about the work of the Royal British Legion please visit their website www.britishlegion.org.uk or if you would like to support the poppy appeal by way of a donation or giving your time please visit www.poppy.org.uk or call 02032072255. Christmas View from the Restaurant

The Ship Inn, Axmouth

THE Ship Inn, Axmouth is run by licensee Ruth Hansford, Ruth took over the tenancy in June this year and with support from the tourists who visit the nearby caravan park and the locals she has had a great first season. The creeper clad village Inn was built in 1880 after a fire on Christmas day destroyed the original that dated back to the tenth century.

The Ship Inn specialises in quality, home cooked food, making as much use as possible of local produce. On the extensive menu you will find traditional pub favourites including vegetarian dishes. The talented cook is Mike Searle; his flair for preparing the extensive menu really shows in the end result and keeps customers coming back for more. Mike has carefully planned the Christmas menu, it has something for everyone, see below. The Ship Inn is now taking bookings for over the Christmas celebration period. The Skittle Alley can be booked to accommodate private parties/functions. Please do not hesitate to contact Ruth to discuss your requirements. There is plenty of car parking available and children are welcome.

The remaining event dates at The Ship Inn are Karaoke nights planned for the Friday, November 6th and Friday, December 11th and a Christmas Quiz night, date to be arranged.

The Ship Inn have been awarded with the CAMRA Cask Marque status, which means that the real ales are prepared and served to a high standard, at least two real ales are available.

Christmas View from the Restaurant

Reeds Restaurant, Colyford

LOCAL residents and visitors to the area are now able to sample some top quality food, offered at reasonable prices at Reeds Restaurant, Swallows Eaves hotel in Colyford.

Stylistically, the restaurant has been remodelled into an elegant, light and airy room, accommodating just 22 people. It offers an intimate dining experience where the quality of the food is matched by seemingly effortless service.

The menus, which change daily, can be described as "modern British" serving dishes based upon tried and tested combinations, using the best seasonal and local ingredients. Choices such as Devon beef fillet with pumpkin dauphinoise, carbonnade sauce, oysters and caramelised shallot; local pork tenderloin with wild mushroom ragout, sage potato gnocchi and creamed leek, and Brixham crayfish and roast garlic risotto with rocket are just an indication of the dishes offered to diners. Delicious desserts such as apple and cinnamon crumble with vanilla crème anglaise or pear and almond tart with saffron custard and pear syrup will round off your meal beautifully.

'Reeds' will be serving a Christmas menu throughout December. Exclusive use of the restaurant is available for family gatherings, company Christmas parties or a group of friends. With a recommendation by the Michelin Guide the restaurant is open Tuesday – Saturday from 6.30pm.

Offering refined contemporary food, warm hospitality in an informal and relaxed environment, Swallows Eaves hotel is easy to access being located on the main Sidmouth/Lyme Regis road and has plenty of space to park the car. Or if you prefer not to drive after enjoying a great evening out, why not take advantage of the special B&B rates and extend your stay overnight?

The Wheelwright Inn, Colyford

Runners up at the Great British Pub Awards, The Wheelwright Inn, Colyford are planning to go one better next year.

The Wheelwright Inn travelled to the Great British Pub Awards evening in London where they were finalists in the Best Food Pub category.

A seven-strong team from the pub showed they were the best in the west having won their regional phase of the competition but finished runners-up at the national awards.

Despite not going all the way joint licensee Gary Valentine was very pleased and is already looking forward to having another crack at it next year.

It was the first time the pub entered the competition making the achievement even greater. Gary said: "It's good for the first year to achieve this."

"It gives us new hope for next year and we will see if we can win it."

Christmas View from the Restaurant

EATING out is no longer the preserve of the French or the Italians; it is now very much part and parcel of the British way of life. In fact, we've gone all continental. And nowhere provides more opportunity to experience the very best in cuisine than this lovely corner of England contained within East Devon.

Whilst the great British classics such as roast beef and yorkshire pudding and steak and kidney pie are still very much a part of British culinary folklore, and still readily available throughout the region, regular diners out have cultivated a more sophisticated palate.

And as a nation of burgeoning gourmets, there's no doubt we're much more adventurous. We don't have to cross the channel or trek down to Provence to experience the mouth watering delights of our European neighbours. Such flavours are in abundance on our own doorstep.

This Christmas whether you're feeling more adventurous, or would prefer to stick to the traditional turkey roast dinner, there is one thing for sure, we are not short of fantastic pubs and restaurants to choose from.

PAMPER NIGHT A GREAT SUCCESS

ON Friday, October 23rd at the Throgmorton Hall, Dunkeswell, Inspirations unisex hair team held a pamper night which proved to be a great success. The evening was the first event they had organised and all the hard work paid off, raising £700 for the local pre-school and the Throgmorton Community Hall itself.

Emma and team would like to give a special thankyou to Renee who took it upon herself to supply all the food through the evening and to be on hand serving refreshments, and to Highfield Stores for helping with wine supplies.

Also thanks to Vinne Brazier who gave up his Friday night to take photos of the evening (examples below); thanks to all the other businesses who had stalls on the night and many donated their proceeds of the evening to the fund.

Thanks also go to the models, who did a great job; Nida, Maggie, Emily, Holly and Chelle.

The evening had a great atmosphere and everyone seemed to have a great time. The Salsa DXtreme team had the party started by getting everyone up for a trial salsa session.

The Inspirations team want to thank everyone for their support for the evening and for sending money.

Emma would like to say an immense thank you to her team (Kaylee, Holly, Dee and Lucy) at Inspirations, without them it wasn't possible.

NODA president and Stanley Holloway's son to meet My Fair Lady

AXMINSTER Operatic Society's production of My Fair Lady, from November 18th - 21st will be attended by Margaret Coltman, new President of NODA (National Operatic and Dramatic Association) who was formerly the regional councillor for the South East region of NODA. She is due to see the show on Thursday, November 19th, and this is the first time in the history of the Society that a NODA President will be watching them perform. "It is an honour that Mrs Coltman will be coming to watch the show, and we are very proud that she has chosen to support us," said Mrs Rose Harvey, Secretary of Axminster Operatic Society. Also in attendance on the same evening will be John Holloway, son of the late Stanley Holloway who played Alfred P Doolittle in the film. Mr Holloway lives locally and has provided the photo below of his father taken just before he died aged 91. Stanley Holloway was born in London in 1890 and besides being remembered for his role in My Fair Lady, he will always be remembered for his monologues 'The Lion & Albert', 'My word you do look queer' amongst them.

▼ Stanley Holloway

"It is lovely that Mr Holloway will come to watch our show and we hope that we bring back happy memories for him of his father's association with the play and film" added Rose Harvey. "Thursday, November 19th will be a Gala evening for us with two such prestigious guests!"

My Fair Lady boasts a myriad of colourful characters, none more so than the leading lady Eliza Doolittle (played by Alex McCullum), a feisty, highly spirited cockney flower girl who takes speech lessons from the aristocratic but unbelievably arrogant Professor Henry Higgins (played by Nick Lawrence) so that she can pass as a lady and follow her dream of working in a respectable flower shop on Tottenham Court Road. There is also Eliza's rogue and drunken father Alfred Doolittle (played by Nick Bussian), the bemused Colonel Pickering (played by Mike Jones), and the snooty ladies of high society, Mrs Eynsford-Hill (played by Tracey Dare) and Higgins' long suffering mother, Mrs Higgins (played by Jennifer McAlister). Then there's the chorus of opera goers, cockneys, Higgins' house servants and the toffee nosed aristocracy who literally faint during the famous Ascot Gavotte scene when Eliza slips up and lets everyone know in no uncertain terms her true origins. Following Eliza's every move is her devoted and lovesick Freddy Eynsford-Hill (played by Andy Helsen).

who recently performed in a very successful run of 'The Gondoliers' with Yeovil Operatic Society).

Tickets are available from Archway Bookshop (telephone 01297 33595) for the show which runs from November 18th - 21st at 7.30pm nightly, including a Saturday matinee starting at 2.30pm.

Ford Fiesta sales top 100,000 in 2009

FORD car sales increased by 10 per cent in October, compared with the same month in 2008. The award-winning Ford Fiesta again led the UK market, passing 100,000 sales for the year.

Market leader Ford continues to make progress, raising its share of the car market to 16.2 per cent year to date, a 1.3 percentage point increase on the same period in 2008. Ford's share of the total vehicle market, including commercial vehicles, rose to 17 per cent – meaning that over one in six new vehicles on UK roads is a Ford.

Ford Fiesta, What Car? magazine's reigning Car of the Year, was the UK's top seller in October – the eighth time the model has topped the monthly sales charts in 2009. Ford Focus is second to Fiesta for the year and, like Fiesta, increased sales in October 2009 compared with the same month in 2008.

Since its launch in May, the government's scrap-age scheme has lifted the market significantly and Ford boasts a total of 26,214 scrappage registrations.

Nigel Sharp, Ford Britain managing director, said: "Notching up over 100,000 sales this year is a significant milestone for the Fiesta, and we're delighted. Fiesta exemplifies our fresh and exciting product line-up which, together with an outstanding dealer network, has helped to increase our UK market share."

D.A. LEE

WESTCOUNTRY JAGUAR

Independent Jaguar & Daimler Specialist

Tel: 01404 891999

Passionate about Jaguars for over 39 years

With 39 years of experience looking after Jaguars, Derek Lee has brought his skill and passion to Dunkeswell. Derek provides the ultimate care in Jaguar repair and maintenance at a competitive price on a one to one basis.

Derek has been based in London where in 1976 he left his employment with a Jaguar main dealer agent to become one of the founding partners in Leeborn - a family based business, which even then was centred around Jaguars. Having become the business's driving force, and developed it into a highly respected Jaguar and Daimler sales and service centre, the company then moved to new purpose - designed, fully equipped premises and renamed the company D.A.Lee. Derek's workshops have been designed to his own specifications and equipped with the very latest in computer diagnostics so that the care and maintenance of Jaguars and Daimlers was simply the best.

Derek Lee is not a man who accepts second best. He honed his winning formula in the competitive world of motorcycle racing. In six years Derek won more races than he can remember and three championships. Derek invested in the right equipment, employed the right people to tune and maintain his race bikes so that they were always in peak condition and absolutely reliable, he then added his own determination and drive. He is using that same formula to provide Jaguar and Daimler owners with the best independent maintenance and repair facility in the area.

Derek has looked after many customers from all parts of the globe - from all over England, Israel, Italy, Sweden, France and Scotland, some who still have their cars brought down to the brand new premises in Dunkeswell, like a Series II V12 Coupe which Derek has looked after for 32 years. Some of Derek's old London based customers having moved to the West Country, and after learning Derek is based in Dunkeswell, are coming back to re-establish service on their Jaguars.

Derek has the latest and best equipment money can buy in his workshop. From the computerised engine diagnostic and tuning unit to an air-conditioning maintenance machine, which also cares for the environment - no refrigerant is released into the atmosphere.

D.A. Lee is fully equipped to carry out all maintenance and repair work on Jaguar or Daimler cars. D.A. Lee offers the best independent and personal Jaguar service with all work being carried out to Jaguar specifications and schedules, using genuine Jaguar parts and top grade Oils. Regular reports keep you in touch with your car's progress and Derek will also consult you before carrying out any unexpected work. All this comes at a much cheaper price than a main dealer. Whatever your Jaguar needs, D.A. Lee is able to provide a service second to none.

Call Derek Lee now on 01404 891999 "Your one to one personal Jaguar emergency service".

CUSTOMER TESTIMONIALS

Derek,

Thanks for servicing the car. Nice to talk with someone who has great knowledge of Jags, and who explains easily and clearly what needs to be done. Great job, see you for the next service.

Regards Brendan Bader

Dear Derek,

Just a note to thank you for the very efficient service that you undertook on my S-Type the other week. Since then she has been covering half the country and has been extremely smooth and well behaved. May I also thank you for so quickly sorting the one or two problems that have arisen over the last few months. It was really appreciated to have sympathetic and sensible advice when phoning up and then to be looked after so quickly. Once again, thank you very much

With every good wish, yours, Dr Ian Grimble

Derek rectified two problems on my XJS that others could not. Having put them right he pointed out a few minor problems and on replacing the parts he suggested it feels like a new car. Derek is a very professional engineer charging realistic prices. He clearly knows his Jaguars and I have no hesitation in recommending his services

Ian Lock, Heartford

Dear Derek,

Many thanks for the excellent service whilst working on our Jaguar. We have complete confidence in your workmanship and once again we are very happy customers

Yours sincerely J & D, Dunkeswell

Dear Derek,

Just a note to say how pleased I was with the 150,000 mile service you carried out recently. You will be pleased to hear that everything is running normally, and I was most grateful that you were able to fix several points that I had raised with you in addition to the normal servicing detail. I shall happily use you again, and the only problem I experienced which was totally outside of your control was the road diversion in place when returning to pick up the car, but on the way back I only went about eight miles out of my way rather than considerably more on the outward journey.

If at any time in the future you wish to use me as a testimonial I shall only be too happy.

I hope you enjoy your holiday in Spain.

Regards, Michael Doyle

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

With Dave Mutter.

THERE are some races that leave you wondering why on earth you did them and there are others that you wish could last forever. The Yacombe Yomp is definitely in the latter category.

A fantastic ten mile two lap real cross country event with mud a plenty, boggy woodland paths, impossibly steep trails and stupendously slippery descents. If that was not enough there was the added excitement of having shotguns blasting away near the course. You had to keep moving or you may have had blasted buckshot up your backside. How on earth did the winner, James Bellwards of South West Road Runners manage to get around in 1:09:17 James Jackson of Dartmouth Runners was 2nd in 1:12:13 and Bournemouth AC's Tony Chutter 3rd in 1:15:53. AVR's best result of the day came from Amy Greenhalgh who won the ladies event, 9th overall in 1:24:15. Bernard Fry also had a terrific run; he was 1st over 50, 6th overall in 1:17:33. Eleanor Wood had her usual sublime performance; she won the ladies over 50 race, 13th overall in 1:27:43. Steve Reynolds was poodling along quite nicely, when on the first lap's steepest ascent he was suddenly joined by Andy Sayers who stuck with him like super glue for one whole lap. Steve managed to unstick Andy on the same ascent and then stretched away finishing 22nd in 1:32:57, with Andy 23rd, 1:33:49. Geoff Woodward had an uneventful type of race, finishing 25th in 1:37:14. Peter Hughes and Dave Mutter had a good old battle. Pete pulled away on the early flattish section, only to be overtaken by Dave on the first major ascent. Dave held his lead until the end of the first lap when Pete galloped past on the flat and pulled out a 400 meter lead, which promptly vanished on the last uphill. They were together at the start of the final descent, but then Pete knew Dave had a weak ankle and was able to make his escape on the stony tracked descent. Pete was 30th, 1:39:38 and Dave 31st, 1:40:44.

The associated 1 lap 5 mile event was won by young Bradley King in 41:59. In a rare outing Rick Wood was 2nd in 51:54. Harry Moore ran well to finish fifth in 1:29:11.

Apart from the superb course, what made this event so good was the post race supper, a choice of six piping hot home-made soups accompanied by large fresh baked rolls, then there were loads of home cooked cakes all washed down with a cup of tea or coffee. Many thanks to Robin Carter and her helpers for organising this not to be missed race in the sun, plus of course the local landowners for permission to run over their land.

After a somewhat slow 10K at Ilminster, Steve Reynolds powered around the November 3.5 mile handicap run winning in 26:47. Anna McLoughlin was 2nd in 30:33, with Bernard Fry 3rd in 22:38. Jonathan Day was 4th, 22:29 and Mark Hilder 5th, 24:53.

BOWLS ROUND-UP

HONITON with Tony Broughton.

FIRST things first, an apology. Trevor Wilkins, Past County President, has informed me that my scoring last week was wrong, so sorry for that.

Apparently, the Men's Indoor County Trophy is a knock out competition, so we're finished for this season and the over 60s County Trophy has a very complex scoring system that I have yet to master.

But thanks to Trevor Wilkins and to Eddie who at least gives me the friendly match results.

To continue, a nice start to the week with a win at home against Axminster by 94-46. Our top Rink, Liz Fielding, Jenny Wilde, Eddie Sharman and Shirley Hiscocks at 26-9.

Home again Wednesday to Dunkeswell and another 77-37 win. Top Rink at 24-5 was Eileen Dommatt, George Hoare and Gordon Tillier.

Saturday home to Donyatt and another win of 111-57. Top Rink Dot Russell, Doug Hiron, Dave Roberts and Ken Clarke at 36-10.

Final match of the week Sunday against the Nomads yet another win of 81-69. Top Rink was John Ritchie, Bernard Tonkin, Pat Whitworth and Mike Sellick.

The Nomads Association was formed back in the nineties by Dick Northam, Somerset, and John Coburn, Dorset both Umpires. Membership was by invitation only, mostly other Umpires.

Competitive matches to report this week are Lynda Dommatt and Rosemary Hiron going to Isca and losing to Jill Oakley and Connie Barber in the National Ladies Pairs competition.

The same Isca pair did not fair as well when they came up against Joan Heard and Sue Evans at Honiton in the National Unbadged Pairs competition. Before anyone shouts foul this is a competition for ladies that do not have an England badge.

In truth the Isca pair played well but Joan and Sue were on devastating form and won 21-5 not playing the last few ends.

Finally Lynda and Steve Dommatt continue their winning spree in the Nation Mixed pairs beating Terry Kennard and Bob Gilpin on their own Torquay United green by 28-14 well done.

Our Annual presentation and dinner was held at the Honiton Golf Club on Friday evening. 86 members and guests turned up for a super meal followed by the presentation of both the Indoor and Outdoor trophies for 2008/9.

The winners were pretty well spread out but Sue Evans and Trevor Pipe always seem to have more than their fair share. Well done to all winners, and well done to the organisers, Rosemary Hiron, Rita Barwick, Tony Tooley and yours truly, and to Joan Heard for keeping track of all the winners.

Golf round-up

with Janet Dack Seniors' Section. A busy week for the Seniors, and in particular for the captain, Chris Walker.

On Friday Axe Cliff held the presentation of prizes for Medals and Stablefords covering the last three months. This was preceded by the Quarterly Cup, a 15-hole Stableford which was won by Nick Stanton (22) with 31 points. Second was Alan Vincent (21) with 30 points. Two players scored 28 points and third place, on the better inward half, went to Mike Tomes (17) with Clive Davie (18) the player to miss out.

On the following day, Saturday at the Annual Dinner, it was the occasion to present Cups, Shields and Trophies won over the preceding year. This year the venue was the yacht club and was presided over by the captain, a member of both yacht and golf club's. Chris was assisted in the presentation by vice-captain Gilbert Cox and an excellent evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

The entire gathering were most appreciative of the time and effort put in by Chris and his wife Sandra to produce the Halloween theme, not only on all six tables but through-out the club. Many thanks to both.

The Ladies played their Monthly Stableford this Wednesday, starting out in glorious sunshine but returning home in very heavy and cold rain. The winner was Pauline Standerwick.

Unfortunately on Sunday the Main Club had to postpone their competition, once again due to atrocious weather conditions - better luck next Sunday.

HONITON

with Paul Dimond

CHARITABLE fund raising goes on all the time at golf clubs with various captains charities benefiting from the generous support of members. One day is always extra special at Honiton and that is the Children in Need Saturday Circus. Around 60 gentlemen participated each donating a winners/auction/nearest the pin/raffle prize, and gladly handing over a £5 entrance fee.

The course must have been in a charitable mood as well - as the scores were better than have been seen lately with Paul Blackmore topping the list of prize winners with 40 points, beating Ron Graham into second on 39. Countback favoured third placed Rob Willey with Paul Hill fourth, both with 38 Points. Thanks go to Nick Agg Manning who kept us entertained while he extracted every last available penny from the members with a list of fines and auctions. Thanks must also go to organisers Phil Wall and Barry Dunn whose hard work combined with the generosity of the field and a donation from the Ladies Section meant £1400 was raised for this worthwhile cause.

On Sunday morning the 16 qualifying pairs played in the second round of the 'Ha-Ha' competition' which is played using the greensome format.

Winners this week include Paul Coates and Alex Cave (W/O), Barry and Stuart Cross (1up), Fred and Darren McCabe (4&2), Jeff Peace and John Gillingham (5&4), Steve Branch and Paul Blackmore (1up), Andy Ford and Roy Bumpstead (4&3), Richard Reece and Mark Fowler (W/O), Terry Dimond and Alan Seager (3&1).

Those of us who failed to qualify played a social stableford competition with Steve Martin winning comfortably from Keith Edwards, Jim Wallis and Ron Graham.

HONITON Wonderers returned with a bang this week beating Colyton Excons 5-1, B.Pike and G.Ward won the first four frames beating G.Jones and M.Parker respectively. The final two frames were drawn, but the result was not enough to take them back to the top.

Colyton Feds remain top despite only drawing at home to Chard B 3-3, S.Potter won Feds first two frames against M.Gidley before N.Wilmington beat R.Wooland for Chard. The final two frames were drawn but P.Gidley earned two bonus points for taking a frame off S.Orren.

Chard Casuals climbed to third place from bottom after beating Sidmouth WMC 5-1.

R.Shave won the first two frames for the Casuals after beating R.Pile and claimed four bonus points for doing so. The next two frames were drawn but P.Martin got two bonus points for Sidmouth for winning a frame against S.Banfield. J.Thomas won the last two frames for the Casuals after beating R.Somers.

Marshwood netball goes from strength to strength

TWO years ago, Marshwood school got together a few willing pupils, had a bit of a practice on a long thin playground with one net in the middle and bravely entered the Colfox Netball Tournament.

After being completely slaughtered, the team were still keen to stay and watch the finals.

"Just as well," mumbled one parent spectator, "they might learn how to play."

How times have changed! Since that moment, Mrs Yorke, a parent from Marshwood, has worked towards the challenge. Firstly she brought together a group of enthusiastic parents who work equally hard with her. Then she organised for Marshwood pupils to go and practise on the large court at Charnmouth School. Week by week, rain or shine, Mrs Yorke, Mrs Wellman and Mrs Taylor coach up to 19 pupils, supported by Mr and Mrs Parkin, Mrs Day, Mrs Johnson and Mrs Croften.

At this year's tournament, on Friday 6th November, Marshwood netball team reached the final! After scoring the first goal, Sticklands managed to equalise by the end of the game. Sadly for us, we were beaten by two goals scored in extra time.

The team returned to a hearty welcome at school to change straight away in to their Book Day characters so they could join in with the school's Book Day theme.

Rugby round-up

I DO enjoy watching local derby games and would certainly have taken in the Bridport/Weymouth fixture on Saturday, last that the home side won 18-10, had not a couple of tickets for Twickenham turned up. I therefore placed myself in the hands of the rail system and watched England lose to Australia, and deservedly so.

AVONMOUTH OLD BOYS 18 SIDMOUTH 9

SIDMOUTH would have ended the day with a feeling of frustration rather than one of despondency, after this loss that sees them slip back into a relegation place, with Yatton beating bottom club St Mary's Old Boys.

The frustration would have stemmed from the fact that they held the lead well into the final quarter, only to let the result slip away.

They had the wind at their backs in the first period but did not use it too effectively for too often they kicked down their opponents' throats, and occasionally fumbled the returns thus conceding territory.

They did take the lead via the boot of Channing who kicked a penalty goal but a similar effort from the home place kicker evened the score soon after.

A second Channing penalty restored their lead and the score remained at 3-6 at the halfway stage.

Now with the wind at their backs, Avonmouth used it effectively and tied the score within five minutes of the restart with their second penalty of the game.

Nothing was resolved however. The Sidmouth pack were on top in the set scrums and were competing well in the lineout. Given this platform, they coped with the home attacks before edging their way upfield and forcing errors from their opponents.

Then, with less than fifteen minutes remaining on the clock, Channing kicked his third penalty goal of the game to take his side into a 9-6 lead.

Alas they could not close the game out. A good individual try by the Avonmouth winger who, having been put clear, chipped ahead and won the touchdown race, took the home side into a 11-9 lead with a few minutes left to play.

Sidmouth were then perhaps a little guilty of trying to chase the game. On a couple of occasions the ball carrier tried to score himself, rather than to put the man outside clear, and was taken by the cover.

Then, at the last, the home full back made the result safe for his side when he came into the line at pace, cut a good angle and scored between the posts. The successful conversion was the final kick of the game, leaving Sidmouth so near but yet so far.

Of course Sidmouth will regard this result as "the one that got away". They should too however, take great comfort from the performance of their eight. It played as well as it has all season, and in wet conditions at that. While backs generally take the credit for winning promotion, it is the forwards who generally win relegation battles.

HONITON 89 BUCKFASTLEIGH RAMBLERS 0

IT is difficult to word a report such as this one without appearing to be condescending to the visitors, a thing that I certainly would not wish to do. They came and did their best and all credit to them for that.

The game however was a procession from start to finish, apart from some 15 minutes of the second-half, and does little credit to the actions of those responsible for reformatting the Devon league structure during last close season.

In all, Honiton scored fifteen tries, with Nick Guilbert converting seven of them to complete the scoring, a success rate that will not have done too much for the loose change of a certain Mr Lock. If this contest had been a boxing match, the referee would have stopped it, probably before the interval, to save Buckfastleigh further punishment.

It was scrum-half Selway who got the ball rolling for Honiton. Dobson crossed on four occasions. Centres Sampson and de Large got on the score sheet scoring two apiece. Luke Owen grabbed a brace, Selway followed his initial score with a later effort and hooker Steggs, Dan Garman and Philip Cook also touched down. The visitors' only scoring chance came via an attempt on a penalty goal that missed.

This game did Honiton no good, and did not do too much for their opponents either!

HONITON 2nd 0 EXMOUTH 3rd 23

HONITON were unfortunate that most of the Exmouth second side, who were without a fixture, turned up to play them. The visitors won the bulk of useable possession but, with the home defence tackling valiantly, their scoring opportunities were limited.

They did however take in an eighteen point lead after the break and scored an unconverted try in the second half to complete the scoring.

Honiton for their part, would have felt that, if the club's fixtures had been swapped on the day, two rather more meaningful contests would have taken place.

HONITON JUNIORS

TORRINGTON COLTS 13pts HONITON COLTS 31pts
The Honiton Colts side were given a real kick up the slats by their opponents when they got over for an unconverted try before the game was a couple of minutes old.

They settled though, with Fahy prominent, and regained the lead with unconverted tries from Hyland and Rice before the end of the first quarter.

Torrington came back however with a second unconverted effort and took the lead on the half hour when they kicked a penalty goal. A try by centre and Man of the Match, Ollie Hyland, converted by Meadows gave Honiton a 17-13 lead at the break but they suffered a setback when flanker Down had to leave the field with a bad cut.

Honiton stretched away in the second period, scoring tries through Isaac Dalton and centre Tom Kingwell, with both of them being converted by useful scrum half, Meadows, as Honiton made their way to a very useful win.

HONITON U 14s 0 CULLOMPTON U 14s 36

Although losing this one by a very considerable margin, the Honiton side did get better as the game went on. Having conceded three tries in the first ten minutes, they rallied and limited their useful opponents to a single score in the second half.

HONITON U 12s 0 CULLOMPTON U 12s 35
Honiton defended stoutly, with Ben Phillips prominent, they were in fact beaten by a better side.

HONITON U 11s 0 CULLOMPTON U 11s 42pts
Even the efforts of Man of the Match Will Vining could not bolster the Honiton defence against these very handy opponents.

CULLOMPTON U 10s 25pts HONITON U 10s 35pts

While winning the first section by twenty five points to nil and scoring tries through Ben Phillips, Harry Todd (from long range), Elliott Perez (two) and Sam Phillips, Honiton found the going tougher in the second and fell behind.

They came back though and closed the gap with Curtis Rowe and Joe Whitthorne scoring tries.

CULLOMPTON U 9s 40pts HONITON U 9s 30pts
Although Torrion Jones scored six tries and all his side's points, it was Will Bollinger who was made Man of the Match for his tackling stint as his side narrowly lost this lively game.

CULLOMPTON U 7s 4tries HONITON U 7s 4tries.

Another close encounter between the clubs where the honours were shared. Sam Steele with three and Eithan Rowe scored Honiton's tries.

CULLOMPTON U 8s 6tries HONITON U 8s 3tries
Honiton could not win this one in spite of tries from Emily Lee and Riley Burgess.

CULLOMPTON U 7s & 8s 5tries

HONITON U 7s & 8s 2tries.

Although Sam Steele and Riley Burgess scored tries for Honiton in this mixed age group game, it was Rowan Stanstell who was rightly made Man of the Match, being the only player to figure in all three encounters.

PREVIEW

THE Allhallows faithful will have to do some early Christmas shopping on Saturday next for there will be no rugby. The HONITON first side have a blank date in their North and East Devon League programme, as do their colts side. Their second team travels to Withycombe seconds and will certainly have to be at its best if it is to win there.

It is all different at SIDMOUTH however for they take on BRIXHAM at all four levels. Their first team entertain their South Devon opponents and will be wondering just how they can conjure a win against them. Brixham are near the top of the division and I would expect them to win, given the sort of season the home side are having. Both Sidmouth seconds and Colts are at Brixham and I expect them to have difficult games also, as will Sidmouth thirds who play at Sidford.

FIXTURES 14th November – Bridport v Blandford (away); Bridport 2nd v South Wilts (home); Chard v Old Sulians (home); Chard 2 v Somerton (away); Chard 3rd v No Game; Chard Colts v Wiveliscombe Colts (home); Crewkerne v North Petherton 2nd (away); Dorchester v Devizes (home); Dorchester 2nd v Sherborne 2nd ; Honiton v Blank Date; Honiton 2nd v Withycombe 2nd (away); Honiton Colts v Blank Date; Sidmouth v Brixham (home); Sidmouth 2nd v Brixham 2nd (away); Sidmouth 3rd v Brixham 3rd (home); Sidmouth Colts v Brixham Colts (away); Weymouth v Warminster (home).

FOOTBALL RESULTS, FIXTURES AND TABLES

Devon & Exeter League

THE Phoenix Club from Exeter sensationally won their second round Devon Senior cup tie 5-0 against the Royal Marines, having lost the original tie a month ago 1-0.

The Devon FA ordered the game to be played again because of an admin breach by the Marines and this time the city team powered to victory to clinch a third round trip to Buckland next week. James Fanson with a hat-trick, Scott Dove and Ryan Antat were the Phoenix scorers.

Seaton Town made it into round four after breating Shebbear but Bow AAC, Honiton Town and Newtown were all beaten, and interest elsewhere was postponed because many ties were called off.

Interest in the Devon Premier cup was ended for all five Exeter League teams at the third round stage, but what a battle Willand Rovers gave South West Peninsular League champions Exeter Civil Service before going down 6-5 after extra time. Willand played out of their socks to end at 4-4 in regular play, but the action never diminished before Civil scrambled over the winning line. Dean Stamp with a brace, Paul Pocock, Neil Cane and a Ryan Gibbs pen accounted for the Willand scores.

Sidmouth Town had their hopes ended by a 1-0 defeat at home to Stoke Gabriel but the South Devon side had to wait over an hour to get the crucial breakthrough.

Newtown edged Feniton 2-1 after being in control at 2-0 and then allowing their visitors to recover. Kyle Hall and Corey O'Donoghue were the scorers for Newtown.

Mark Anning, John Cooper and James Melville were the Beer Albion scorers in their 3-0 win against East Budleigh.

Ryan Chapple scored twice for Barnstaple Town in their 3-0 win against Axminster Town in Division 2.

SEATON Town are through to the last 16 of the Devon County Senior Cup after a less than convincing win over a determined side from North Devon.

The Seasiders found themselves a goal up inside the first ten minutes through winger Josh French, the visitors fought back and created at least three excellent goal scoring opportunities, in which their forwards lacked the composure needed to punish the Greens.

With 15 minutes remaining home forward Cameron Vere came alive for the first time in the game and placed a fantastic shot into the bottom left corner of the goal leaving the away keeper with no chance. In order to kill the game off Seaton made two immediate changes bringing on Lamb-Wilson and Hayes with hardworking Groves and Fellingham making way, this frustrated the visitors and they lost their cool which saw a red card branded for foul and abusive language.

On the day Seaton were poor but to their credit made sure they took their goal scoring opportunities. The visitors having at least seven goal scoring opportunities and scoring none and Seaton having three chances scoring two of them.

The defence of Robbie Fellingham, Marcus Wyatt, Oliver Morgan and Mark Perham ensured that the greens unbeaten record continues, with Morgan & Perham being exceptional.
Man Of The Match Mark Perham.

Colyton 3 Crescent 1

COLYTON completed a league double over Crescent on a boggy but playable King George field. Coly started brightly and could have been ahead within 10 minutes missing a great chance.

After that it was pretty even with neither side creating much.

Colyton started the second-half sluggishly and Crescent could have scored three in five minutes. But the hosts slowly got back on top and the chances followed with Callum Somers netting a double to make it 3-0. The visitors netted a late consolation but Coly cruised home.

Midfielder Marc Potter had an excellent second 45 and James Richards behind him at full-back was tremendous.

THE Tigers got off to a bad start when they went 1-0 down in the eighth minute when striker Paul Hevenam got on to a cross from wide man Neil Kennedy and tucked his shot into the corner of the net.

The hosts never got into the game and Plymstock added a second in the 20th minute when defender Adam Cowling brought down Kevin Frances in the 18 yard box and Frances himself converted the spot kick.

In the second-half Axminster stepped up their efforts but were always on the back foot and the visitors grabbed a third when midfielder Mike Sutcliffe found space and side footed home.

The Tigers reduced the arrears when Alex Wheatly broke down the left and his cross was met by Joel Gosling to score from close range. Plymstock scored two more goals in the closing stages to round off a convincing Graddon Vending Devon Premier Cup victory.

ROUND TWO

SHEPTON'S Reserve team were also involved in a ding-dong cup tie against Lyme Regis Bantams at Venlake.

Shepton took an early lead only for Robbie Prior to level after good work from Ben Strong. In between Lyme skipper Wallace Blackmore, who had an outstanding match, had a spot-kick saved.

A goal on the stroke of half-time restored the visitors' advantage and that's how it stayed until defender Mark Taylor, thrown up front in a lach-ditch effort, lashed the ball home to force extra-time.

Two goals in the space of three minutes put Shepton firmly in the driving seat before Ally Rattenburr repeated his trick from the previous game but curling a corner kick directly into the net. Taylor then popped up for his second and the tie went to penalties. Shepton, whose goals came from Tom Brister (2), George Pugson and Tony Angel, held their nerve the better and sealed a Semi-Final trip to Crewkerne Town Reserves by winning the shoot-out 4-2. Crewkerne earned their place when Luso-Chard failed to raise a team and forfeited the game.

Crewkerne Rangers crushed Fivehead United 6-1 at Wadhams School. Simon Denslow (3), Harvey Perrin, Tom Broome and Josh Lovatt were on target for the Rangers with Stefan Paul replying.

Rangers' opponents in the other Semi-Final will White Horse Reserves. Horse needed extra-time before finally overcoming visiting Combe A 3-2. James Pitcher tapped home to give the hosts an early lead before Dan Woodbury made it all-square at the break. Carl Fletcher then put the Combe noses ahead but centre-back Kyle Ives headed Horse level five minutes from time.

The West Dorset outfit dominated the extra half-hour, "we looked much fitter" said Horse manager Nick Pomeroy, and won the game when Russell Weller fired home from 18-yards. Top performers Horse were Ives and midfielder Chris Mathews.

PREMIER

DESPITE being without influential skipper Adam Caddy Lyme Regis proved too strong for Charmouth in the West-Dorset derby at the Davey Fort.

Caddy woke up on Saturday morning with fluid on his knee and was forced to watch from the sidelines as the Seaside, now unbeaten for two months and without conceding a goal for more than six hours, breezed past the Robins 4-0 at the Davey Fort. But Lyme were nothing like the team that gave the master class in beating Merriott Rovers 5-0 last just seven days ago. Manager Robin Townsend was far from pleased with his teams form, he said "We just never got going, it was a poor performance, I can't pick out anybody worth a mention."

Rob Thomson gave the hosts a half-time lead and Steve Batey, Dom Rowe and Julien Simier ensured the points were pouched and Lyme maintained the pressure on Beaminster and South Petherton whose scheduled trip to Barrington was postponed.

Merriott Rovers ended a three game losing run with a 5-3 win over Crewkerne Town. All eight goals came in a 25-minute first-half purple patch with Rovers taking an early lead through Josh Payne.

But the Tigers, themselves on a poor run of four straight defeats, snarled back to lead 3-1. Man-of-the-Match Grant Symes headed home the first before a sublime chip from Jamie Spurdle and a clinical finish from Ade Male appeared to swing the game the way of Budgie Cook's troops.

But the goal-fest continued and Payne completed a fine hat-trick with Craig Lodge and an own goal making up the Rovers nap-hand.

"We got exactly what we deserved" was Ilminster Town Reserves' boss Jamie Lee's assessment of his sides disappointing 3-1 home defeat by Combe Reserves. Wayne Behan gave the Saints an early lead and added a second on the hour. Phil Denslow, making his debut after his move from Crewkerne Town, made up the visitors' triple before Mike McCormack bagged a late consolation.

A double from Ben Stevens, one in each half, ended a four and a half hour goal drought and saw Perry Street return to form against visiting Misterton. Jack Stanley made the points safe before Jack Flatt replied late-on for Missy who are now without a win in six.

DIVISION ONE

FORTON Rangers and visiting Farway United played out the first 0-0 draw of the season. A Phil Woodley penalty save helped the Devonians to become the first team to shut-out the free scoring Forton attack this season.

DIVISION TWO

MILLWEY Rise lost their 100 percent record in 2-2 draw with bogey-team Dowlish & Donyatt at First Avenue. Adam Whitehouse, on target for the fourth game in a row, put Rise ahead but Chris Rawle levelled before the interval. Rawle bagged his seventh of the campaign to put the visitors ahead but Michael Knight held his nerve from the penalty spot to salvage a point for the Slopers.

Second-placed Norton Athletic closed the gap at the top to seven points with a comfortable 4-0 win over Uplyme to clinch a league double.

Neil Rusling and Ashley Rose put the Norts in the driving seat at half-time and Aaron Purnell and Pete Moore completed the victory. The result leaves Uplyme without an away win in nine attempts and gearing up for a possible relegation fight ahead.

TOP-of-table HAWKCHURCH were predictably the day's top scorers with an 8-4 win over basement battlers Chard Rangers Reserves.

Rangers stunned their hosts by storming into and early 2-0 lead and actually still led 3-2 at the break. But the Hawks bared their talons and swooped home with marksman Tim Hussey netting four in the second period. Dan Turner (2), Paul Chapman and Steve Real also scored for Hawkchurch with John Mason (2) Kevin Bird and Dan Wilcox on target for the spirited visitors.

Misterton Reserves, with a bare 11, jumped four places to seventh following a 3-1 win over Millwey Reserves at Unity Lane. Darren House and Matt Atkinson put Missy in control at the break and a Will Brooks header from a corner ensured there would be no Millwey fight back despite Gary Venn's late consolation.

YOUTH FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

Honiton u9s v Central United (0-1) and City (0-12)

UNITED won an even contest. Captain Kelsey Pulman was Honiton's man of the match but Honiton were unable to turn their possession in to goal attempts. Joel Trim and Danny Ruel stood out in defence as did Luke Ward in goal. Owen Fisher and Luke Barber made contributions to be proud of.

The second game was closely fought until two strikes within a minute made it 3-0. City then took control.

Feniton U9s 1 Feniton Falcons U10s 7
FENITON U9s fought bravely in their first match in the U10s league but found their older club mates too hot to handle on a windy day at Acland Park.

The Falcons dominated the first half with Feniton striker Ben Cathcart scoring five before half time. In the second half the U9s came more into the game showing some good touches but they couldn't prevent Cathcart from scoring again and Adam Tomkins rifling one in from long range.

The U9s ended on a high note when Ben Timmuss scored an excellent goal, shooting across the keeper into the bottom corner. Falcons Man-of-the-Match was Ben Cathcart.

Central City U9s 0 Seaton U9s 0
SEATON travelled to Exeter to take on the two Central teams. We played Central City first, the first half was very even.

Despite Central dominating the second-half the Seaton held out with Lewis Brown Man of the Match.

Central United U9s 0 Seaton U9s 4

Seaton U8s 7 Ottery St Mary 0

EDWARD Kenworthy opened the scoring with a free-kick. The second came when William Hellier tackled an Ottery defender finishing well. Seaton scored their third early in the second-half when Millie Dack netted her first ever goal.

Seaton's fourth came from Kieran Burraston who was alert enough to score from a rebound. Goals from Alfie Tucker-Vincent, Jamie Davey and Finley Rooke rounded off the scoring. Man of the Match - Liam Hughes.

Seaton U10 A 0 Seaton U10B 1

A FIRST-HALF goal from Lewis Pearson decided the Seaton local-derby. The man of the match was Lewis Franklin.

West Hill U12s 2 Feniton 4

TOM Gurney opened the scoring with a long range effort that looped over the stranded West Hill keeper.

After 15 minutes Joe Titmuss popped up at the far post to double Feniton's.

Feniton's third was delayed by an interesting refereeing decision. Jack Lovegrove's shot hit the back of the net for his first goal of the season, however, the referee decided that on the way into the net it struck a West Hill hand and awarded a penalty. To the bewilderment of the away supporters the referee then failed to dismiss the culprit for denying a clear goal scoring opportunity. Feniton then compounded the error by missing the penalty!

Soon after, Tom Gurney was on the end of a perfect Josh Tree cross to confirm the three goal lead. West Hill, to their credit, never gave up and with James Martin at the heart of most of their good work West Hill got a goal back. A shot from the left beat the keeper and came back off the post and after a minor scramble the ball ended up in the back of the Feniton net.

The second-half started with Feniton looking lively. Tree made the score 4-1 before James Martin reduced the deficit back to two goals.

As the rain appeared late in the second half the game descended into a scrappy battle with few clear cut chances.

East Devon Short Mat Bowls

With Chris Young

JUST two evening games this week in the League, both in the second division, and both providing rewards for the travelling team: Colyton won their second match 6-2 while Seaton Cliff shared the points at Sidford.

In the Afternoon Awliscombe A move to the top place winning 8-0 at home; Beer picked up three points to move up to second place, first sharing the points with Chard B at home, then winning 5-3 away, and they still have a game in hand.

Chard B also travelled to Seaton Cliff and, being consistent, drew there against the A team putting them in fourth place, one behind their hosts. In the second division Awliscombe's B team matched their A team's performance also winning convincingly at home, 7-1 and they too keep their top place.

Behind them more home victories for Combe St Nicholas, 6-2, and Woodbury, 7-1, moved these two to 2nd and 3rd respectively.

The knock-out competition is now underway; Beer travelled and won four games against their opponents three, the other being tied. Sidbury and Colyton both played their home ties first, both winning 6-1 with the other game tied.

I can also confirm that the Pairs Event will be on March 20th, this year at Donyatt. Invitations will be sent out in the New Year. I look forward to welcoming you there.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

HONITON RUNNING CLUB CELEBRATES 10TH ANNIVERSARY

LAST Friday evening Honiton Running Club held a formal dinner and dance at Honiton Golf Club to celebrate their tenth anniversary. Over 70 members attended and enjoyed an excellent meal after which club chairman Paul Lowman gave a short resume of the highlights of the first ten years.

After listing the main club officers that have served over the years Paul told how the club's first meeting was on 20th October 1999 and was affiliated to the various running authorities in July 2000.

Lottery funding was received to help with organising the club and also to stage the first event, a 5k run, in 2002 which was the forerunner to the Honiton 12k races and the recent 10 mile Honi-ten.

The club now has a list of several races which includes the Hippo, the Blackdown Beauty, Sport Relief and Charter Day runs.

Trips abroad have been a highlight over the years with several excursions to Barbados to enjoy the sun, surf and the half marathon and 10k events there.

There have also been trips to the Malaga half marathon and to France.

In the past two years a junior section has been formed and has become an important part of the club.

There have been some notable performances over the years and Paul especially mentioned the excellent national and international achievements of Honiton star ultradistance runner Heather Foundling Hawker, and also the ladies who won the team award in the last two New Forest Marathon events.

Paul rounded off his reminiscences with a look to the future of the club and talk of a new clubhouse and better training facilities, after which he proposed a toast to Honiton Running Club.

After Paul's speech a draw was made for two club places for the London Marathon which were won by Alison Guest and Jill Wood. Another excellent raffle was drawn for many prizes donated by club members and visitors and most went home with a souvenir of the occasion.

ANGELS FLYING HIGH

Division One: Uplowman 29 Bo-Peeps 23, Wasps 26 Visions 32, Keeley's Angels 45 Tip Top Trees Oaks 10.

KEELEY'S Angels kept the pressure on in division one with their fifth win in five starts when they comprehensively defeated Tip Top Trees Oaks who have lost heavily to the top two teams in consecutive weeks. With Cara Monaghan in fine form for the Angels they proved too strong for Oaks despite some fine work from Louise Garman yet again. At quarter time Keeley's were 10-3 in front and this had increased to 26-5 by half time. Angels continued to dominate the game and although Tip Top Trees worked hard they could not get back into the game and Keeley's Angels won by 45-10 to move to within a point of the top spot with a game in hand.

After three wins on the trot Wasps were hoping for win number four when they met 'Visions, who after a shaky start are beginning to perform better, and they too had won their last three games, so something had to give. Wasps started well and led 11-7 at quarter time although by half way 'Visions had reduced the deficit to 17-18. At half time Wasps unfortunately lost their GD due to injury, and without a replacement they had to complete the game with six players. With Ali Moxey doing well in defence for 'Visions Wasps found scoring more difficult and 'Visions made their numerical advantage tell to finish victors by 32-26.

Uplowman and Bo-Peeps met for the first time tonight this season and it was a close encounter with Andrea Britten playing well for Uplowman whilst once again Faye Webb caught the eye for Bo-Peeps. The game could have gone either way but at the end it was a narrow 29-23 win for Uplowman.

Division Two: Lyme Bay 7 Met Office 50, Bampton 33 NAS 25, Sidmouth Toucans 23

Tip Top Trees Acorns 36.

AS the season progresses it beginning to look more like a four team race for the two promotion spots.

Tip Top Trees Acorns bounced back into the top spot [on a slender two goal better goal difference] thanks to a fine win over Sidmouth Toucans - who have struggled to find their best form this season. The game started evenly with Acorns just having the best of the first quarter to lead 8-6. The second period went goal for goal and at half way Tip Top trees still held a two goal lead over Sidmouth at 14-12. In the third period Acorns opened up more of a lead to start the final period 25-19 to the good, but Sidmouth were still within touching distance. Acorns had other ideas and in the final period they outscored the Toucans again to end the game winners by 36-23 and move back into the top spot. Jo White was the pick of the Toucans whilst Dani Wakeley's shooting won the day again for Acorns.

Weather Girls from the Met Office are proving to be all weather performers as they continued their unbeaten run with another convincing display. Although Emma Franklin played well for Lyme bay they were no match for the power of the Weather Girls, for whom Jenny Fotheringham was outstanding.

Bampton continued their push for a promotion spot when they defeated NAS. It was a game of the Sarahs, with Sarah green in excellent form for NAS and Sarah Robinson splendid for Bampton.. At half way NAS had edged in front at 13-12. Once again the third period was pivotal as Bampton took the lead for the first time and started the final period 24-16 up. Although NAS had slightly the better of the final quarter they could not get back on terms and Bampton ended the night victors by 33-25.

Sixth place for Heather in Gibraltar

HONITON-based ultra distance runner Heather Foundling-Hawker came in sixth place representing Great Britain in the World Challenge run over 50 kilometres in Gibraltar last week.

Heather was pleased with her performance, she said: "Although Lucas Nonyana of South Africa went on to win the race a whole hour ahead of me, I was proud to finish sixth and even beat the Gibraltar male runner. The course was very steep with lots of hairpin bends - many runners do not complete the race."

Heather has now set her sights on making the GB team for the World and European 24-hour challenge race to be held in France next year. To do so she will have to make the qualifying criteria of 120 miles in 24 hours at the Monaco event in two week's time.
